THEME

The theme of the 1966 Academy Herald is "A Picture of the Past." This is a logical choice, for Gould, in its 130 years of existence, has acquired a large store of traditions, and glimpses of the past are to be found everywhere throughout the campus. Some of these traditions and glimpses of the past are scarcely thought of as such since they have come to be so much a part of every student's life at Gould.

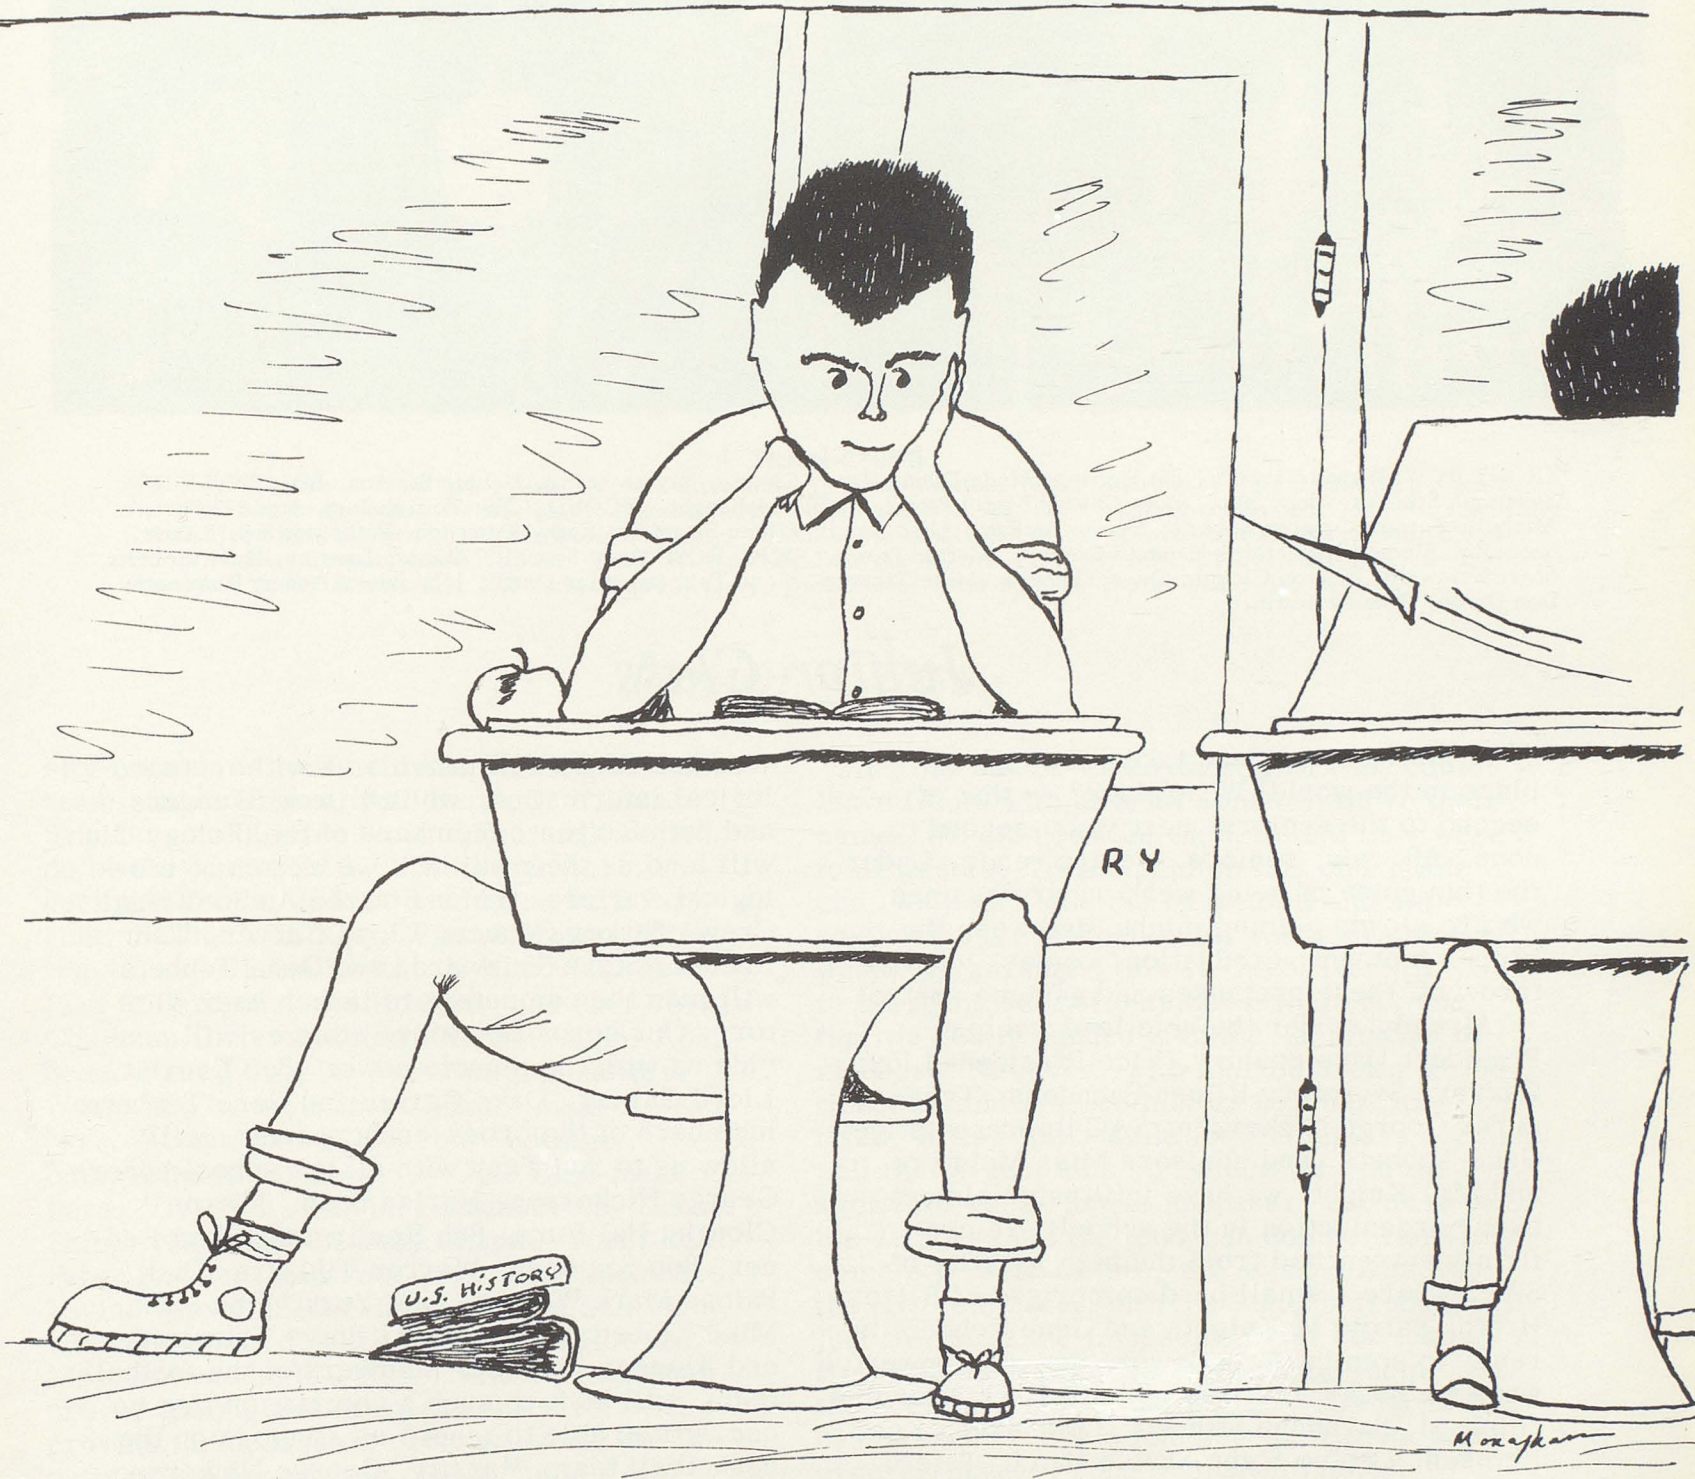

The idea of establishing a secondary school in Bethel was first brought up in 1835 by a group of interested citizens. The following year the Maine legislature approved the plan and Bethel Academy was opened. At this same time the Reverend Daniel Gould, pastor at the West Parish Church, a man greatly interested in and dedicated to the education of youth, became interested in Bethel Academy. He generously offered the trustees of the academy the residue of his estate upon his death, on the condition that the name of the school be changed to Gould's Academy. This offer was gratefully accepted. Another man who greatly contributed to Gould is William Bingham, II, who in his benevolence provided land and buildings for the school and scholarships for deserving students.

These two men are outstanding in the history of Gould Academy, and we owe a great deal to them. But we should also feel grateful to everyone who has ever been associated with Gould Academy, whether as student, teacher, trustee, or staff member, for creating and maintaining the spirit, atmosphere, and ideals that constitute our school.

Junior Class

Arise, juniors, and take your rightful place in the world! What place? -- that of second to the seniors, next year: second to none. Ah, yes, seniors, we are ready. Under the thin guise of being weak upperclassmen, we are slowly gaining might, and when the proper moment, graduation, comes, we will throw off these pretenses and assume control.

Already, under the able leadership of President Dave Bouldry, Vice President Lloyd Carver, Secretary Eileen Saunders, Treasurer George Nickerson, SAC Representative Gene Tebbets, and advisors Miss McIntyre and Mr. Knight, we have infiltrated almost every organization in the school. We are firmly entrenched from the high sanctity of SAC, where a small band comprised of Elise Hatch, Barbie McKnight, and Gene Tebbets is ready to step in to the lower, yet still powerful, waiters: Becky Andrews, John Pollack, Carolyn Olmsted, Savannah Stinnett, Don Dixon, Ken Remsen, Debbie Shipp, Elise Hatch, Peter Howard and Dave Bouldry. Foreign divisions, Betty Ray, Barbara McKnight, Becky Andrews, Savannah Stinnett, Peter Howard, Dave Bouldry, and Beth Sargent in the French Club, and Nona Bean, Don Dixon, Barbara McKnight, Becky Andrews, Dave Bouldry, Laurel Brown, Claire Bachelder, Dave Thurston, and Tom Fadner in the Latin Club, await the call to arms. George Nickerson, president of the Weather Club, will provide us with meteorological information, while Eileen Saunders and Beth Sargent, members of the Biology Club, will lend us their skills if we resort to biological warfare. Juniors on the Audio-Visual Crew, Parker Conner, Lloyd Carver, Tom Fadner, Steve Trinward, and Gene Tebbets, will man the computers to launch us to victory. Our corps of trained athletes will provide us with the muscle power. Bob Everett, Lloyd Carver, Dave Carter and Gene Tebbets, members of the cross-country team, will allow us to run away with all the school honors. George Nickerson, Harlan Bean, Theron Clough, Hal Fure, Bob Remington, Tom Fadner, Bob Seemann, Warren Tibbetts, Dick Paine, Mark Walker, Paul York, John Buck, Mike Tibbetts, Don Dixon, Steve Trinward, and Alanson Lovejoy, members of the football team, will kick up such a commotion that no one will be able to ignore us. Juniors on the basketball team: Varsity, George Nickerson, Dave Bouldry, Pete Howard, Lloyd Carver, and Mike Colby. And on the JV's Tom Fadner and Steve Trinward will bounce away any obstacles obscuring our path to glory. Junior skiers, Warren Tibbetts, Bob Seemann, Dave Carter, Ken Remsen, Gene Tebbets, Rodney Swain, Bob Remington, and Don Dixon, will lead us to victory. These stalwart athletes will be aided by the juniors on the girls' varsity teams, as well as those on the girls' ski team, Heidi Glines, Beth Sargent, Eileen Saunders and Elaine Smith. They will be led on by the junior GAA Council members, Becky Andrews, Eileen Saunders, Beth Sargent, Barbie McKnight, Vivian Brown, Elise Hatch, and Elaine Smith, with musical accompaniment furnished by Glee Club members, Vivian Brown, Joan Frankevicz, Debbie Shipp, Nona Bean, Nancy Chapin, Terri Reid, Peter Howard, and Paul York; band members, Vivian Brown, Elise Hatch, Barbie McKnight, and Pete Howard. Dick Paine, Pete Howard, Mert Brown and Hal Fure, who have already proved their great dramatic abilities, will provide the necessary oratory, since the Debating Club has proved one of Gould's unassailable strongholds. With refreshments and motherly advice from the FHA members, Elise Hatch, Rebecca Morton, Kathy Kittredge, Linda Dunn, Jean Bartholomew, and Claire Bachelder, and great moments recorded for posterity by Camera Club member John Pollack, we shall not fail!

This year, the juniors, feeling compassion for the departing seniors, allowed them to "win" the Winter Carnival so that they could leave Gould with at least some credit to their name. We did not want them to feel they were total wastes. To accomplish this charitable end, we sacrificed the basketball and ski competitions. Magnanimous schemers that we were, we arranged to lose the basketball in overtime so that outsiders would not see that we really handed it to the seniors out of kindness! However, with Merton Brown on the ticket committee, no matter how hard we tried, it was impossible for the juniors not to sell the largest number. Since we won the snowshoe race, it was necessary for us to let the seniors take the toboggan competitions. By some odd quirk of fate, the sophomores won the obstacle race, with the juniors second. Just to insure the impossibility of our taking first place overall, we changed the theme of the sculpture at the last minute, so that to the casual observer it would appear that we were procrastinating. Next year, with no one to be obligated to, we will, of course, win the Carnival.

So, world, take heed! We are ready.

Sophomore Class

In our second year at Gould, we, the sophomores, found in nearly every school activity, have become a more vital part of the school. Leading this far-famed class are Ned Robertson, President; Cindy Chapin, Vice-president; Darlene Merrill, Secretary-Treasurer; Ruth Tebbets SCA representative. Our advisors, Mr. Berry and Miss Arbour, are to be commended for tolerating our last minute meetings and wild plans.

Fall found sophomores participating in sports in great numbers. The football squad claimed ten sophomores: Gary Swan, Jimmy Perkins, Dickie Waldron, Teddy Jackson, Jimmy Young, Mark Vail, Tommy Davis, Cliff Colford, Lindy Chayer (Manager) and Roger Wheeler (Manager). Tommy Davis and Roger Wheeler received letters. Closely backing the top five cross-country runners were several sophomore harriers: Ned Robertson, Bill Eames, and Larry Fox.

While the boys were winning fame on the football field and cross-country course, the sophomore girls fought valiantly and often successfully at field hockey. We finished third in inter-class competition and supplied the Varsity, Junior Varsity and Blue and Gold teams with competent players. The sophomore class also contains many accurate archers, one of whom made the Archery Team.

The sophomores won and lost at various events to place third at the G.A.A. Halloween Party. Our greatest victory was the winning of the scavenger hunt. Sophomores returned from miles around with such articles as flowered bathing caps, Pat Grenier's signature, and a sample from Freshman Brook. Our skit, in which witches concocted the spirit of Gould Academy with tissue from the Barth Room, and educational magazine -- Playboy -- from the biology lab and several other articles, placed second. Despite these victories, we placed third overall.

The winter term featured basketball and skiing for boys' sports. Sophomores on the junior-varsity basketball team were: Bobby Gilbert, Dennis Durgin, David Hutchins, Andy Inman, Lindy Chayer, and Danny Garneau. Jimmy Young, the manager, was the only sophomore to receive a letter. Those out for skiing were Bill Eames, Phil Robertson, Teddy Jackson, Jeff Brown, Larry Fox, and David Luxton.

While the boys concentrated on basketball and skiing, the girls became proficient in volleyball, basketball, modern dance, and apparatus. We placed third on the peg in basketball, but trampled the juniors to take second place for the volleyball peg. Two members of our class, Gretchen Dock and Vicky Brown, played in the Varsity game against Rumford and were voted onto the Blue and Gold team.

As for the Winter Carnival -- someone had to place last. Our most humiliating defeat was losing to the freshmen to place fourth in intramural basketball. Our sculpture, which changed from a hot line telephone to a sacrificial altar to a representation of death, and finally to a staircase to infinity, also came in last. The other events were not quite so defacing to the sophomores. We tied for third in skiing, came in third in tobogganing and ticket selling, placed second in the snowshoe race, and, due to the talents of Les Sawyer, Roger Wheeler, Tom Davis, and Gretchen Dock, actually won the obstacle race. Although it was a humiliating weekend for us sophomores, everyone enjoyed taking part in the various activities.

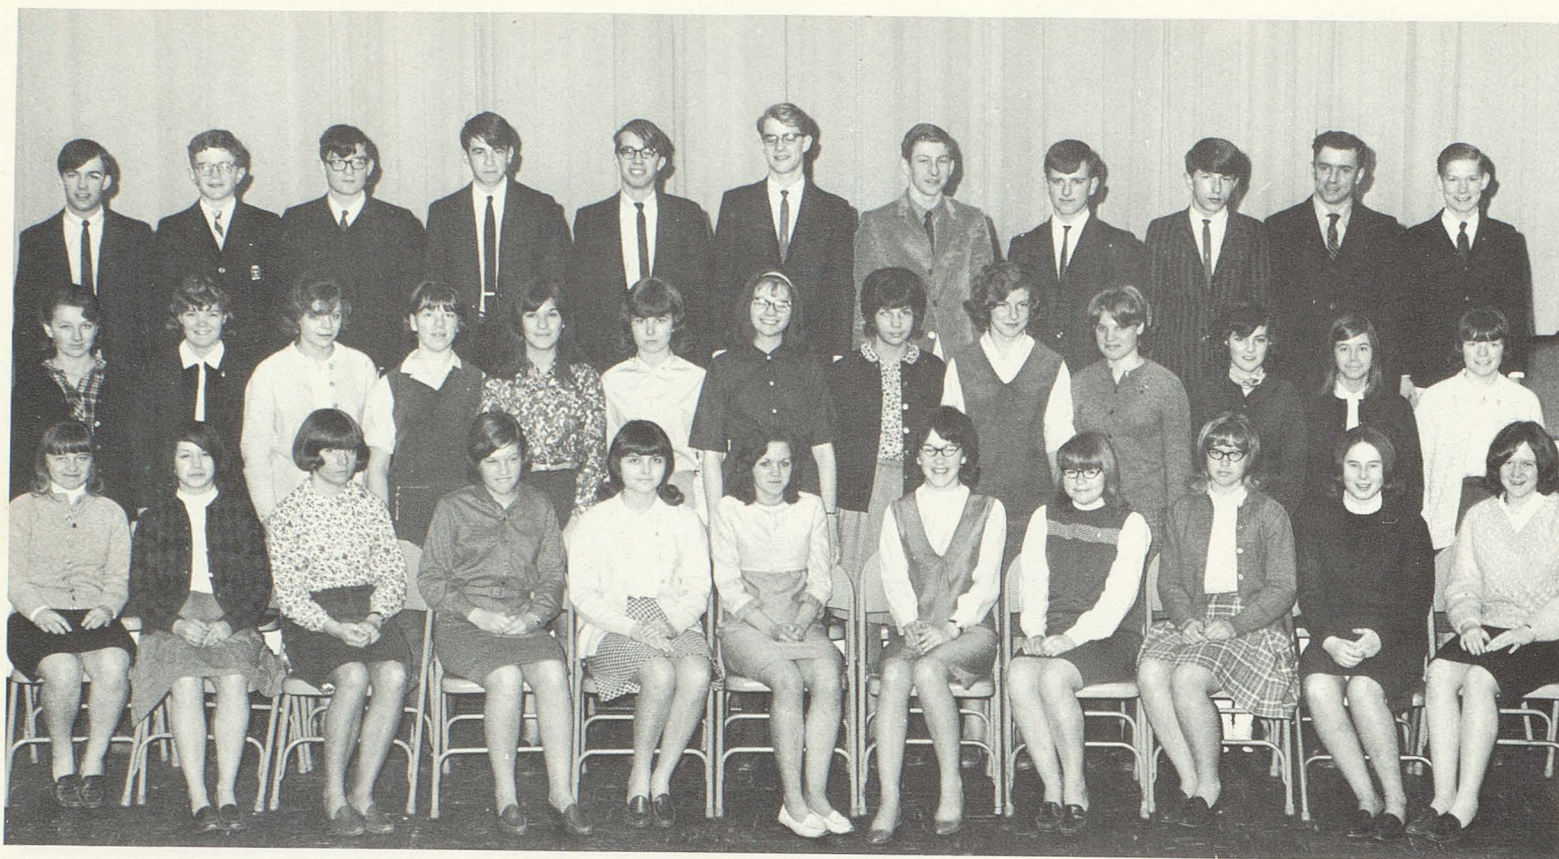

Another sophomore activity of this winter was choosing and ordering the class ring. After much controversy, we settled on a blue stone with a white gold setting and figures engraved on either side of the stone.

Sophomores have been well represented in the musical activities all year. In the band, where we outnumber all the other classes, are Tom Davis, Edward Deegan, Jim Perkins, Vicky Brown, Cindy Chapin, Gretchen Dock, Patty Saunders, and Kerry Stevens. The Glee Club claims Gretchen Dock, Kathy Powers, Neila Smith, and Mary McGee for sophomores. Those members of our class who were elected to the Chapman Club were Gretchen Dock, Kerry Stevens and Leslie Sawyer.

All the various clubs and organizations on campus have a smattering of sophomores. We are represented in the Olympian Council of the Latin Club, the executive council of the G.A.A., S.A.C., Weather Club, F.H.A., Debating Club, and the Camera Club. We have two cheerleaders: Pam Douglass and Debbie Mitchell. One dramatist: Bill Eames, one majorette: Darlene Merrill, and seven members of the Audio-Visual crew.

In its first two years at Gould, the sophomore class had made its reputation; the last two years will have to be spent living up to it.

Freshman Class

This year the eighty-five members of the freshman class elected the following officers: President, Scott Daigle; Vice-President, Craig Boyd; Secretary, Grace Lackee; Treasurer, Patty Dunham; and S.A.C. Representative, Mary Jane Geronda.

On September 24, gray clouds parted and a golden sun shone upon freshman class members as we scattered before the wind at three o'clock to go home and prepare for the most important event of the year: the Freshman Mixer. The event was in full swing at six-thirty, and at eight newly acquainted frosh filed into the auditorium humming strains of "Yesterday" and "Downtown" to watch a movie. The gala affair was planned by seven members of our class: Beth Andrews, Mary Jane Geronda, Joan Wiese, Nancy Brown, Brandon Falkenham, Pete Kailey, and Scott Daigle with assistance from Miss MacDougall and our advisors, Miss Hall and Mr. Owen.

Another long-to-be-remembered event came when Mr. Richardson and Mr. Owen took the freshmen to Lovers' Lane to collect wood for the most awaited bonfire in Gould history. With strong hands, sturdy backs, and strong class spirit we carried branches, twigs, and limbs to the bonfire site. Our pile of timber stood through wind, hail, rain, until a dry Friday came and she finally burned.

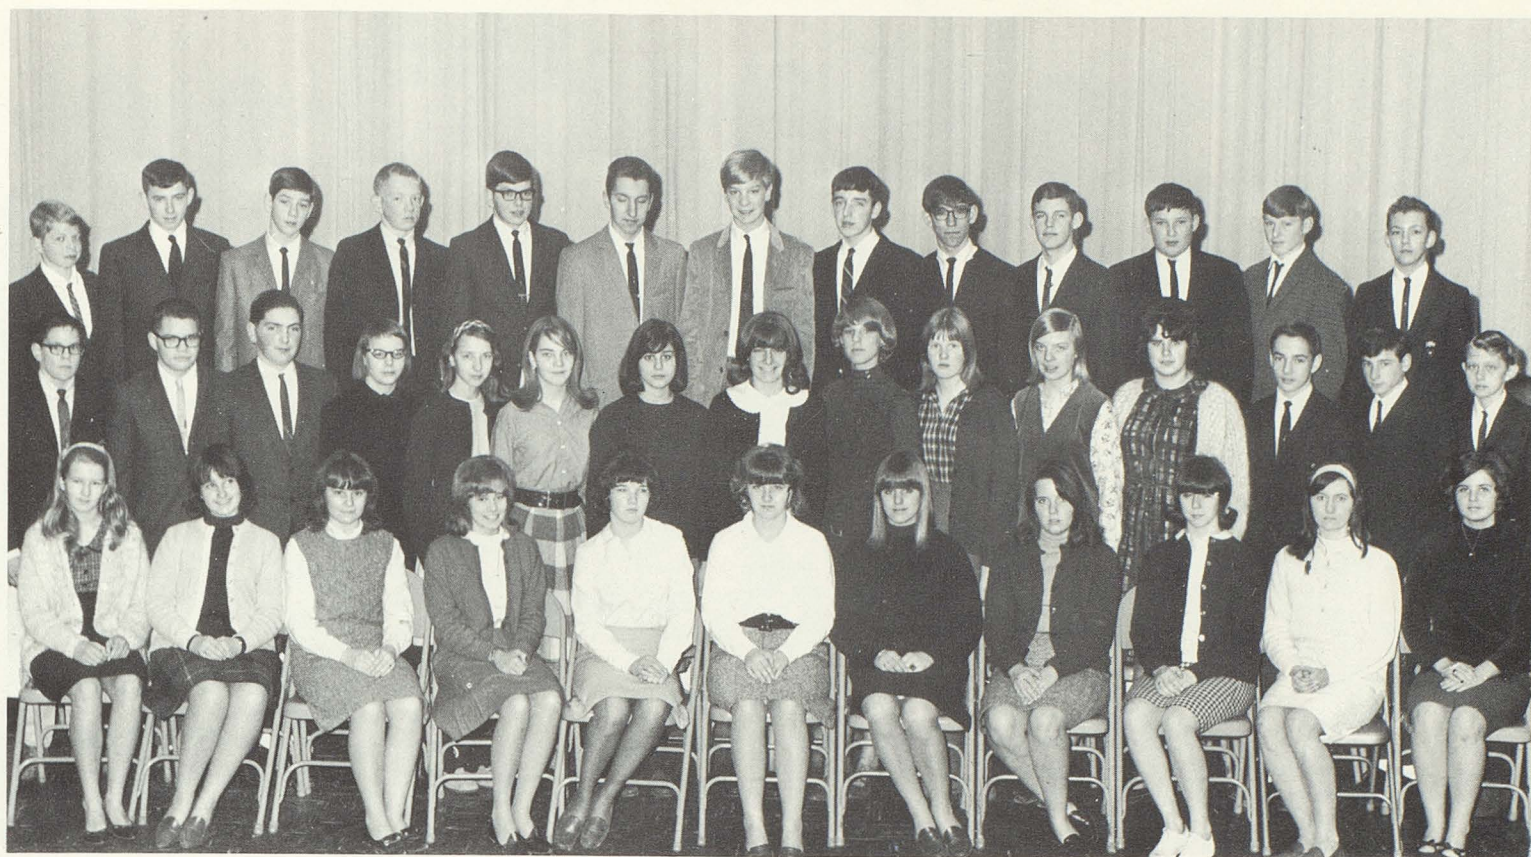

In sports we did well. On the J.V. football team our class was well represented by the following players: Phil Runnels, Chet Wheeler, Kerry Smith, Pete Kailey, Tom Gibbs, John Thurston, Paul Treworgy, Alan Remington, Dale Buck, Al Howe, Jim Johnson, Doug Bennett, and Robert Day. Several of these freshmen also played in varsity games although none earned letters.

On the cross-country team we had these loyal freshmen who ran in meets: Steve Carter, Scott Daigle, Craig Boyd, Gary Page, Dave Robertson, Steve Hastings, and Mike Shannon.

We contributed our best dribblers to the J.V. basketball team. At every game one could see Craig Boyd, Al Howe, Ray Powell, Phil Runnels, Paul Treworgy, or some other loyal freshman shooting for a basket, dribbling down the sideline, or leaping high to catch a rebound. We made our contribution to the Varsity team with Craig Boyd.

The boys' ski team had two freshmen who earned letters: Scott Daigle and Pete Kailey. We also had several freshmen who skied in meets but were unable to earn letters. On the girls' ski team we had Jo-Anne Bickford, Julie Grace, Grace Lackee, and Linda Carver.

The musical world at Gould was blessed with various contributions from the freshman class. The band was given three musicians, all excelling in the musical field on different instruments: Dorothy Lovejoy on trombone, Nancy Brown on the cornet, and Diana Walker in the clarinet section. The singing freshmen from among our midst joined the Glee Club and the better singers among us, Beth Andrews, Dorothy Lovejoy, Terry Stecher, and Diana Walker, joined the Chapman Club. Dorothy Lovejoy was the lone freshman that made All-State.

In the Debating Club we had a good number of "frosh" debaters. From Sandy Smith and Sue Brooke to Kristina "Syd" Smith and Melinda Held, we were well represented. Anita Young did our class honor by debating with experienced upperclassmen at an assembly by the Debating Club on January 12.

Five freshmen entered a world of togas, colosseums, and crumbling walls as they were swept back in time to join the Latin Club on March 4. At the Roman Banquet one could have seen Ray Powell being auctioned off at the highest price a freshman slave sold for, Joan "Pipp" Wiese having a "push the radish with your nose across the gym floor" race with a fellow slave, Mary Jane Geronda munching a pickle as she piled her master's plate high with Roman delicacies, or Nancy Brown running across the floor merrily singing "Jingle Bells". In the freshman skit they could have seen Phil Runnels as Nero careening wildly across the floor in a chariot designed by slave John Thurston.

In the carnival we received second prize for our sculpture entitled "Quicksand", and we placed third for the whole weekend. For this we must thank Kerry Smith and Allan Howe, who had the task of hauling Julie Grace and Nancy Brown up to the top of the toboggan hill. Craig Boyd and Keith Durgin had the same task with Sandy Smith and Melinda Held as the cargo. Carol "Suki" Brown, Alan Remington, Julie Grace, and Scott Daigle were the members of the freshman snowshoeing team.

In early June our freshman year will be over. It will have been a year of building bonfires, having a freshman mixer, and cheering for our ski teams on Carnival Weekend. It will have been a year of meeting new friends, some from as far away as Viet Nam and Saudi Arabia, some from Matinicus and Lovell, some from Newry, Bethel, and Andover. We have three more wonderful years like this in high school and maybe more in college. Then we shall go out into the world, lighting a path by which to guide our followers, as our leaders have to guide us.

Gehring Hall

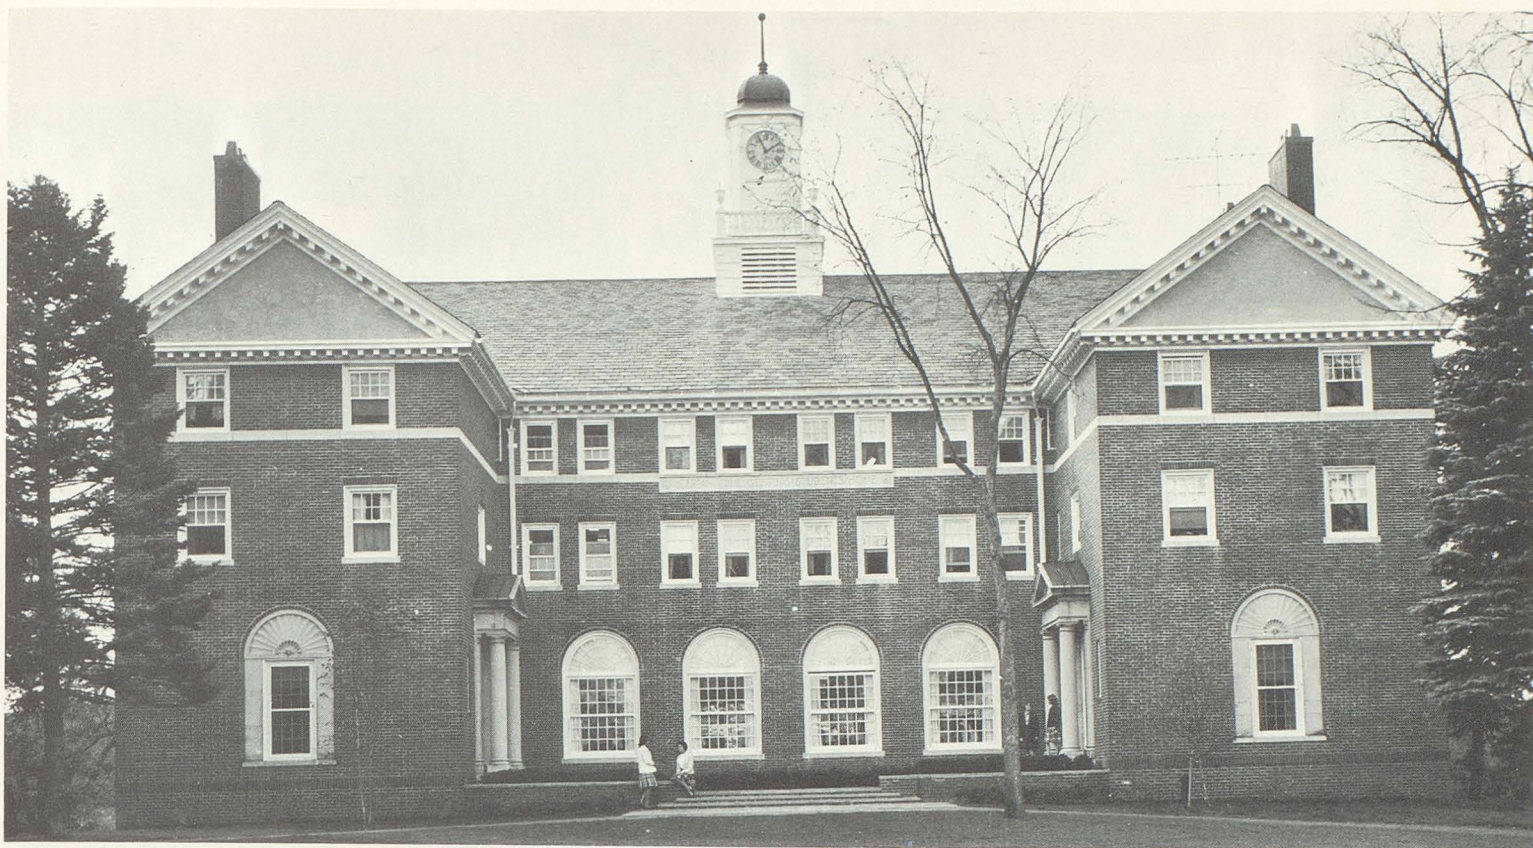

The still night air is pierced by the sound of the "bushes bell." Couples slowly straggle to the door. Who's first into the dorm? The Butt Room of course! I follow them down the shadowy stairway, noticing Melinda Held, Carolyn Olmsted, Debbie Brayton and Nona Bean sitting in the living room, as usual, watching U.N.C.L.E., as I go by. By now boisterous shouts are erupting from the butt room. I enter. The usual crowd is sitting behind the usual cloud of smoke, The noise comes from Jonnie Lochrie. It seems that not only did she have a good time at the dance, but she also has a good hand. Becky Andrews is silently cursing the "bushes bell," while Jane Howe talks to Bev Kelley about skiing conditions. Betsy Crane is innocently playing the board. Penney (Boopie) Kinsman and Pepper Howard are over in the corner plotting. I notice that Pepper left her "booties" somewhere in the wilderness between the gym and the dorm.

As I leave the butt room, I happen to glance into the laundry room, known to the Seniors as the haven of the Freshmen. Carolyn Fenderson and Mary Jane Geronda are scraping their laundry out of the dryer. They're talking about the dance to pass one of the many hours they spend washing and ironing.

As I proceed back up the stairs, I notice that Leslie Sawyer has finally made it in from the bushes. Second hall is as chaotic as ever. Chris (P.) Sanborn is standing outside Terri Reid's room giggling. I pause to speak to her, but she just giggles. Terri looks as though she's ready to laugh too, so I beat a hasty retreat. I run into Debbie Shipp next. She's hurrying down the hall with her camera, so I decide to follow her. She goes into my room. There, Elaine (Trixie) Treworgy and Debbie Mitchell are singing a duet about Calais High. Barb McKnight is doing a dance to their tune. Debbie gets the picture. Then Julie Grace, Leckie DesRoches and Kerry Stevens flock in demanding candy. Leckie stays to join the festivities. Sue Somerville and Candy Calderwood come in and pounce on the food.

I leave in search of a more peaceful atmosphere. As I saunter down the hall, on my way to third, Savannah Stinnett and Sue

Gehring Hall

Pollack turn on their record player and start to sing. I had been wondering why they were were so quiet. I reach the end of the hall and I'm immediately bowled over by Betsy Noyes on her way to see Nona Bean to discuss the evening. I look in on Darrell Nichols. She seems intent on putting a certain teddy bear away, so I depart.

As I round the corner onto third, I hear Laura Sawyer and Laurie Fishing singing a duet -- a pleasant departure from the chaos downstairs. I notice Diane Burrill running down the hall soliciting votes for a measure the Dorm Council wishes to pass. A president's work is never done! Barbie Halperin comes out of her room, yelling something back to her roommate, Beth Andrews. I look in to see what all the commotion's about. Just as I suspected. Beth is practicing her ballet and Barbie wants her to put the furniture back. Dee Dee Bunker comes bouncing around the corner and shows me the latest crab her father has sent her. Carolyn Stanley just stands silently by and thinks of all the good times she's had on the island.

I hear laughter from Kris Smith's room.

Syd's probably showing Sally Boynton some of her new earrings. Grace Lackee also hears the laughter. She comes into the hall and asks if I've seen her roommate. I send her down to my room, first warning her about Elaine and Debbie's atrocious singing. As I descend the stairs, I Meet Mary McGee face to face. It looks as though ol' Mary is planning on hiding behind another music stand again.

At last the noise is diminishing. I decide to try to get back into my room. It seems that I didn't see Elise Hatch on any of my wanderings. And so I descend past second floor. My hunch was right. I find Elise on the sunporch studying. Smart way to skirt the noise!

And so I wearily ascend the stars. Lights are out and the noise has subsided. Soon all the precious monsters will transform as they take on an angelic aspect as they succumb to sleep.

Holden and Farnsworth Halls

This year the members of Holden Hall proved that quality, not quantity, counts. We had members on both the State Champion Cross-Country and State Co-Champion Football teams. Some of the boys were honored scholastically.

Let's wander around the dorm and become acquainted with some of the residents.

On the first floor, Paul Treworgy and Scott Daigle are thinking of how to get upstairs without going in the shower. Ray Powell is busy studying. Phil Robertson isn't around.

On the second floor we find Stan McKnight building the world's loudest record player. Actually it's not a record player; it's a phonograph. Stan's roommate, Doug Boynton, is throwing tennis balls down the hall at Jim (Farmer) Goulette and Bob (Seagulls) Seemann. Next we come to the room of Don Dixon and Al (Fester) Cummings. There is so much junk in the room that we can't see anyone, but we hear a guitar being played and a learned lecture on film development so we know Don and Fester are home. (Neat) Russ Hunter is worrying about his duties as a mature five-year man. He stands in the hall shaking his head and muttering to himself. As we pass Hal (Olaf) Fure's room, we hear him testing a new tune on his "tunebox". Paul York doesn't seem to be around; maybe he's skiing.

All this walking is tiring, so we head down to John Lombard's room to hear a lecture on the G.O.P. After a few minutes we leave John's room and head down to Jim (Stick)

Holden Hall

McBain's room. Jim is wondering how he can get more weekends per term. The other stick, Joe Pendleton, is trying to have Jim play a "folk disc". Jim's roommate, Bill Donahue, is yelling at everyone, "I care, I care"!

Next door, in Bob (Dad) Kuenstle's room, we hear Bob comparing European girls to American girls; Rick Harding, Ray Atwood, and Gregg Pitman listen closely.

The room next to Bob's belongs to Ken Morse and Steve Mahler. Ken is telling Steve about those college visits. Next door Jim Lougee is studying math.

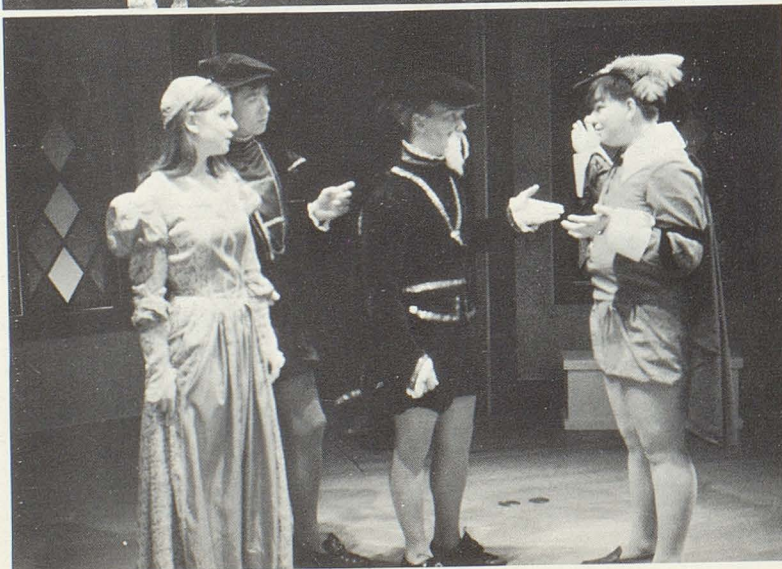

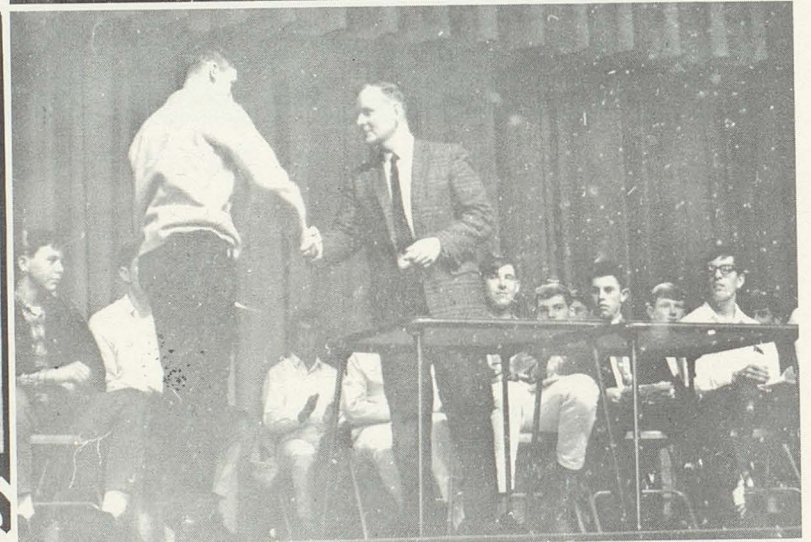

Now we go down to the most famous room in the dorm, "The Butt Room". Here we see Sandy Runyon, Jim Campbell, Steve Moore, Don Ferrero, and Phil Martin smoking

"weeds". We see a few term papers being written. We ask Jim how it feels to be legal again. "Great!"

Down at Farnsworth House, we find five juniors living under the direction of Mr. Scott. Dave Bouldry is sound asleep. His roommate, Pete Howard, is busy studying. Rodney Swain doesn't seem to be around. John Pollack is cleaning up his room. As we leave, we see Ken Remsen gaily swinging along on his crutches.

As we end our tour, we would like to thank Mr. Arthur Dexter, on behalf of the boys of Holden Hall, for not losing his sense of humor and his patience during the year. I hope that you have enjoyed your tour!

Student Activity Council

SAC was organized in 1962 and has enjoyed four successful years, there being no doubt that the Council will remain an important part of Gould Academy in the future. The load of duties falling on SAC increases from year to year, but they usually fall within two categories: that of aiding other student organizations and that of acting as a sounding board for student opinion. SAC sponsors the first student mixer along with several other week-ends. Parent's Day is organized and run by Student Council members, and one of the two big dances of the winter season, the Christmas Formal, is a SAC function. The Council also supervises general and special student elections and prepares the student handbook. In the fall one of their more celebrated duties is the yearly choosing of cheerleaders. Towards the end of April, SAC must plan movies and assembly programs for the next school year. These are only a few of the assigned jobs which SAC handles. Perhaps the most important are the weekly problems and ideas arising from the student body; in this connection a bookstore was created by the Council at the suggestion of a member of the student body. Selling paperbacks at cost, it has had an astonishing success and should continue to prosper next year.

What SAC representatives accomplish is only slightly more important than the way in which they go about it. Meetings may not always adhere to ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER, but generally SAC is an example to other student clubs of the art of organization. The experience SAC members gain by becoming familiar with parliamentary procedure can be invaluable in any meeting. Knowing what's in order and what's out of order puts one in a good position to get what he wants as many have learned during heated discussions.

Doug Boynton served as President of SAC for this school year (a position not lightly given). Vice-president, Steve Moore, Secretary, Chris Sanborn, and Treasurer, Ken Morse, contributed their share to the leadership of this organization and along with three SAC members: Barbara McKnight, Sandy Runyan, and Stan McKnight, made up an executive council which could be used for deciding minor affairs without full SAC participation. The advice and assistance of the faculty advisors: Miss MacDougall, Mr. Myers, and Mr. Dexter served as guidelines affording plenty of latitude but keeping the Council headed in a logical direction. The Student Activity Council of 1966 extends its thanks to both the faculty and student body who have taken an active interest in SAC's affairs, without which the organization would be meaningless. Those of us who are leaving the Council encourage next year's Council to continue to expand and become more useful to Gould Academy.

Blue and Gold

The BLUE AND GOLD is Gould's school newspaper, a publication everyone concerned with our activities reads and enjoys. Although the final result is appreciated by all, few readers realize the time and effort that go into each issue. This year's staff, we like to think, is one of the best. Chris Sanborn and Larry Billings, as our co-editors, have done much to spark up the paper with new ideas for articles. One of the most popular innovations has been the "Opinions Please" column. Students from all classes were invited to offer a brief opinion on a particular current topic. The topics chosen ranged from national crises to school affairs.

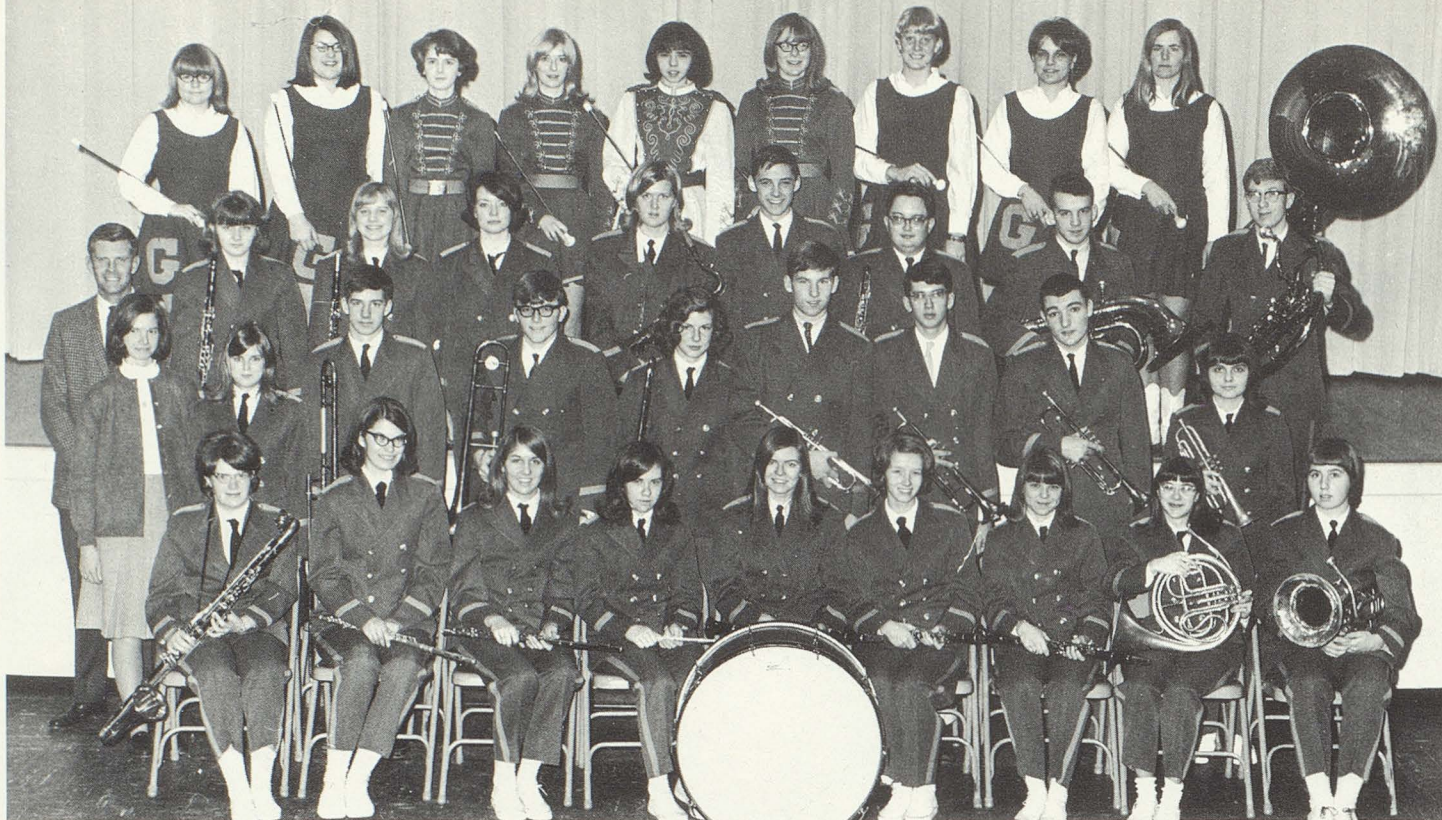

Other members took the initiative from Chris and Larry and added to the nucleus of and idea variations of their own. Co-feature editors, Leckie DesRoches and Laura Wiley, had their hands full with the development of these ideas. This "new look" has brought some marvelous responses. As a rule, G.A. students take pride in their paper and what it represents. Years from now they can look back to the '66 Winter Carnival or the topics of the day, and have a feeling of pride that Gould reporters were there to record them in the annals of their school's history.

Diane Burrill certainly did a fine job with her Organizations column. News here was briefed up or beefed up, according to interest. Martha Laws and Peter Burgess were our girls' and boys' sports reporters. Laurie Fisher was the music editor. Laurie, herself active in musical happenings, kept us abreast of Mr. Owen's talented groups. Betsy Crane and Heidi Glines had the respective jobs of alumni editor and exchange editor. Sue Brown saw to it that the paper was supplied with suitable photos from the Camera Club. Circulation was the task of Ruth Tebbets, and Al Walker carried on as advertising manager.

Both the editorial and reportorial staffs wish to express their sincere thanks to Mr. Thompson, the man who makes all this possible. As a senior, speaking for my class, I hope the classes of '66-'67 will take as much pride and pleasure in our paper as we have.

Music

The music department, under the accomplished guidance of Mr. Owen, enjoyed another fruitful year as students joined together with instruments or voices to find fulfillment and self-satisfaction in the realm of music.

In the first, crisp days of autumn the band could be seen energetically rehearsing snappy marches to supplement our exciting football games, and to lend a spirit of vigor and color to our fevered bonfire rallies and victory dances. Even then, members of the Glee Club were industriously coordinating their sounds in anticipation of the then faroff Christmas Concert.

The nights grew shorter and colder as winter descended. Though icy blasts raged that wintry December evening, the auditorium was warm and colorful as the Glee Club and the band performed the numbers they had so conscientiously prepared. They were followed by an enactment of the YORK NATIVITY PLAY by the Theatre Arts group.

Winter had not quite melted into spring when early in May the various facets of the music department combined to perform an informal Pops Concert in the Bingham Gymnasium. The numbers, ranging from spirited show tunes to folk laments were complemented by refreshments served by charming waitresses. The light, relaxed atmosphere made for an enjoyable evening.

The talented Chapman Club enjoyed a fun-filled year sponsoring weekends and attending concerts in nearby cities, under the able leadership of President Peter Howard, and his assistants, Vice-President Laura Sawyer and Secretary-Treasurer Laurie Fisher. The Chapman Club was extremely proud in being represented at the 1966 Maine All-State Music Festival by eight of its members: Vivian Brown, Dorothy Lovejoy, Barbara McKnight, Joanne Monaghan, Laura Sawyer, Tom Davis, Peter Howard, and Dave Hutchins.

On Memorial Day the band marched as it does annually, in honor of our nation's dead. After Memorial Day exercises, the Chapman Club journeyed to Mr. Owen's rustic summer camp on the shores of beautiful Kezar Lake for the annual picnic which highlights the year's activities. Soon after, on a June Sunday, the seniors joined, for the last time, their underclassmen associates as the strains of "Halls of Ivy" softly rang out at Commencement.

French Club

Although the French Club is not the most active club on the Gould Academy campus, it contains many aspiring etudiants de français. The French Club members have worked hard throughout the year to make their activities the best.

The year started off slowly with only the election of officers. Stan McKnight, whose name shows his non-French origin, was elected president. Leckie DesRoches, whose name shows that the choice was a good one, was elected vice-president. The secretary elected, Joanne Monaghan, turned out to be an Irishman, and Chris Sanborn an Englishman, was elected treasurer. Although these elections didn't turn out in true French form, the officers tried their best to create an active interest in French culture and language.

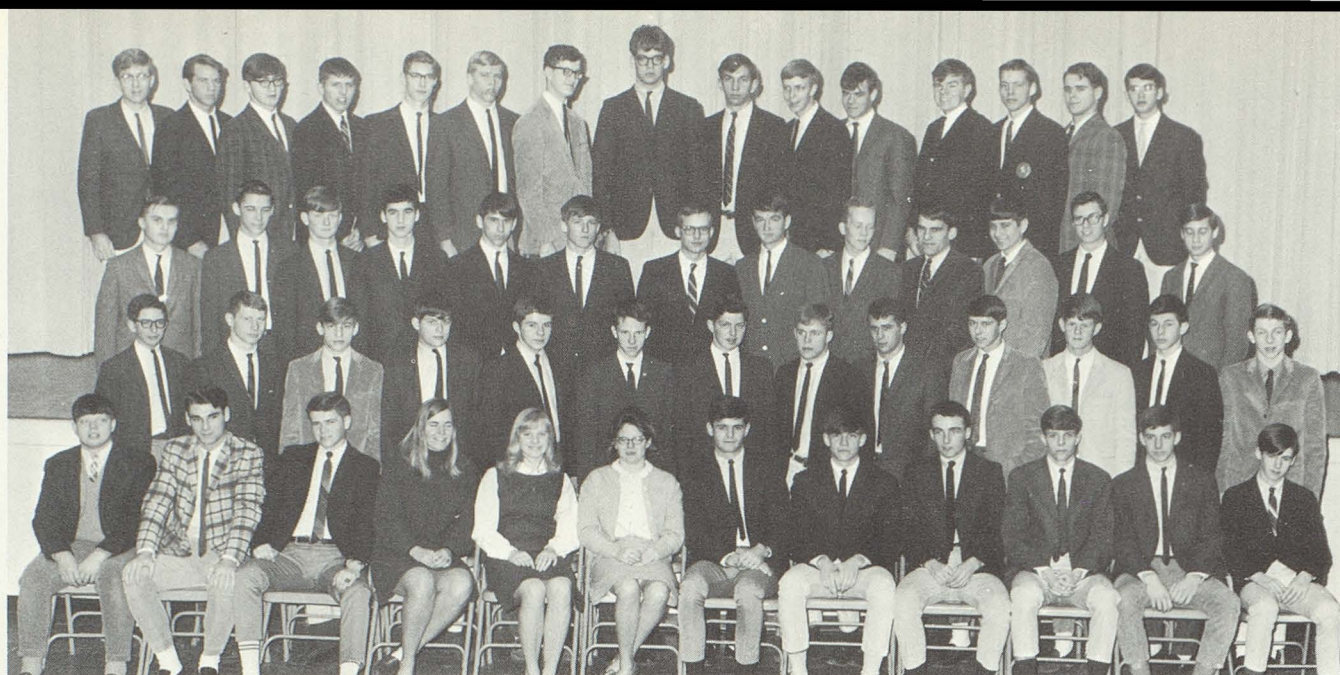

A wave of panic hit the French Club members when they discovered that they had a weekend coming up, but with a little bit of genius the weekend was a success. The gym was decorated in blue, white and red, the colors of the French flag, and the food committee came up with some good French food.

The next article on the agenda was the Christmas caroling. The club diligently practiced and set out on a cold, wet night to carol in Bethel. The party ended up at Mr. Vachon's house later in the evening.

The biggest event of the year was the Fête, of the French Club Party. The theme was "Moulin Rouge," a famous night club in Paris. Even though the female members of the club had to go to Kents Hill, the boys set to work and turned out a remarkable representation of the night club. The money to pay for the food and decorations came from a bottle drive the members industriously conducted in the rain.

After the Fête, the French Club members just coasted until the end of the year since there was nothing else planned. However, the members worked well together all year and everything they attempted was quite successful. Their warm thanks are extended to Madame and Mr. Danforth for their guidance throughout the year.

The largest organization on campus (about one third of the student body) has again proved itself worthy of such popularity. Beginning in the fall with hiking and mountain climbing and ending in June with a big dance on the tennis court, the Outing Club's schedule also includes ski trips and the Winter Carnival.

Numerous assaults on the surrounding mountains were led by Mr. Brewster, Mr. Barth, and the Richardson family. After a trial run up Barker Mountain, the survivors looked towards higher peaks. Baldpate may not match the icy cliffs of the Matahorn, but it certainly challenged the Outing Club climbers. The breezy, thin air on the summit even made egg sandwiches and warm oranges taste good. Following the path was hazardous enough for most, but for the more adventurous there were always new trials to be blazed through the wilderness.

Mountain climbing is followed after the first snowfall by skiing. Winding up a snow-full ski-season (despite the Weather Club's contrary predictions) was the Winter Carnival. It began with interclass skiing on Friday afternoon followed by the coronation of the 1966 Queen, Elaine Treworgy. Under the auspices the interclass competition got underway the next day with toboggan, snowshoe, and obstacle races, and a snow sculpture contest. The seniors swept the field as was to be expected, but there was no lack of enthusiasm among the underclassmen. In the evening the campus lit up, and the Carnival Ball put the finishing touches to a gala week-end.

Behind every successful club there's a successful president, and this year Steve Moore was in charge with the assistance of vice-president, Russell Hunter, secretary, Chris Sanborn, and treasurer, Jim Campbell. Together with the faculty advisors, Mr. Knight, Mr. Brewster, and Mr. Barth, they helped plan and organize another prosperous year for the Outing Club.

Debating Club

During the past year the Debating Club has carried out a program especially designed to promote the practice of debating technique in everyday experiences. In other words, the club has accented such aspects of debating as impromptu speaking and proper presentation methods. With these primary goals in mind, the debaters have tackled subjects ranging from a trip in a balloon to capital punishment.

This year's officers were: Paul Pierce, President; Al Cummings, Organizer of Debates; Diane Burrill, Secretary, and Ellen Kennett, SAC representative. With their guidance the club made plans for such things as discussions with Bridgton Academy over the American Negro's place in society and the Vietnicks' influence in our world. Leslie Sawyer, Joan Frankevicz, Ellen Kennett, Betterae Cole, Anita Young, Diane Burrill, Joe Pendleton, and Paul Pierce were the brave ones to take part in these lively discussions. The Vietnik theme was continued by the presentation of a Study Hall debate with Anita Young, Ellen Kennett, Phil Martin, and Paul Pierce as participants, the topic being -- "Resolved: That the current opposition to U. S. policy in Vietnam is detrimental to the United States." Betterae Cole, Susan Brooke, Al Cummings and Joe Pendleton represented the club at the annual Bates Discussion Forum.

After completing a very enjoyable year, all of us wish to extend our heartiest thanks to our coach, Mr. Vogt. Without his help, none of this would have been possible.

Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America is a worthwhile organization all over the country; Gould Academy is proud of its particular chapter and of its fine record of projects and work throughout the years. Membership to the F.H.A. is possible if one takes or has taken a course in home economics sometime during her high-school years. Once she is a member, a girl is entitled to the benefits of the association, but must also do her share of the work. All those food sales need food, and someone has to do it!

This year the F.H.A. has done much to gain recognition and, we feel, has helped to make our school a better community. Clubs should be of some service to the school of their members; the F.H.A. has made the people here look up to it with respect and admiration for the girls who get out and do something for the community.

Here are the officers of the 1965-66 association:

President: Brenda Sweetser
Vice-President: Mary Morrill
Secretary: Elise Haines
Treasurer: Donna Breault
SAC Representative: Maryvonne Rolfe
Historian: Diane Williamson
Parliamentarian: Linda Dunn

The girls, under the guidance of the new home economics teacher and club adviser, Mrs. Conant, held several food sales this year and sponsored a couple of weekends. The F.H.A. does many things to insure its members of a happy and fulfilled future as a member of a much larger community; a feeling of friendship, of charity in mind and manner, and of instinctive tact, are qualities we all like to see. The F.H.A. girls have proven their worth in so many ways that we know that someday they will become the leaders in their own society.

The Golden Fleecing

Dramatics

This year the dramatics program has been carried out almost exclusively by the new theater arts class, instructed by Mr. Vogt and Mr. Owen. Their first production was "The York Nativity Play", the traditional Christmas play from the York Cycle of Mystery Plays performed from about 1300 to 1580. Pepper Howard and Joe Pendleton very effectively portrayed Mary and Joseph. Laura Sawyer as Herod's queen, Jonnie Lochrie as Herod's mother, and Paul Pierce as Herod also exhibited fine acting ability as they toyed with the fiery moods of Herod. In this Play Laurie Fisher had the distinction of holding down three parts: royal announcer, attendant angel, and Herod's son -- all well done. This seven-scene production was welcomed by all as a refreshing change in theater production. From Mike Jenkins' introduction to the final curtain, the play successfully achieved its aims.

On the night of February 17, "Golden Fleecing" -- a play that all were allowed to try out for -- was presented at Gould. Peter Howard starred as Lieutenant Howard, a modern Jason. This modern Jason illegally searched for gold in a Venice gambling casino, and the story of the play details his effort to obtain it with a scientific system at roulette, engineered by Eldridge (Charlie Jacobs) and aided (?) by a third Navy conspirator, Gilliam (Bill Eames). Of course, complications arose, in the form of the admiral's daughter, Julie (Pepper Howard), whose entry led to the involvement of none other than pompous Admiral Fitch (Mike Chretien) in the plot. Also soon to be involved in the plot were Merton Brown (as Signalman Taylor), Brian Buck (as Pete De Lucca), Fifi Bean (as Anne Knutsen), and Ken Morse, who played the part of a meddlesome civilian. Appearing as a porter was Joe Pendleton, as waiter, Dick Paine, and as two shore patrolmen, Ray Atwood and Hal Fure -- all of whom filled their parts well. The students have generally considered this play the year's best.

Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" was perhaps the most difficult production undertaken. Laura Sawyer met the play's challenge in her usual fine manner by portraying Katherine, the shrew to be tamed. Paul Pierce took on the exacting role of Petruchio, tamer of the shrew. Joe Pendleton played Baptista Minola, father of the shrew and Bianca, the sister, was portrayed by Candy Calderwood. Charlie Jacobs and Mike Chretien acted as suitors to Bianca. As the show progressed, the audience began to catch the full meaning of each line, and the enjoyment increased. With the last curtain call, all came to the conclusion that Shakespeare could be welcomed to Gould anytime.

Sincere thanks go to the long-suffering members of the stage crew: Steve Trinward, Bob Saunders, and Sue Brown. Mr. Vogt and Mr. Owen are to be commended for three excellent performances. All appreciate the long hours of planning and practice which each production demanded. Best wishes for continued success in the coming years!

The Biology Club

A comparatively new organization on campus, the Biology Club, held this year's first meeting on September 24, 1965, in the Biology lab. It was called to order by President Jack McMillan who, after revealing that the purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for the coming year, was promptly re-elected. Results of the ensuing voting declared John Lombard most capable for the vice-presidency, and Eileen Saunders for the job of secretary-treasurer. Then Jack went on to explain the true purpose of the Biology Club: to promote interest in the different fields of biology.

This year's members were: John Lombard, Don Ferrero, Rosemary Stowell, Sandy Runyon, Jane Howe, Jack McMillan, Pamela Douglass, Craig Runyon, Beth Sargent, Eileen Saunders, Claire Bachelder, Nadine Curtis, Phil Martin, and Leslie Sawyer.

Throughout the year the Biology Club kept its members happy with a minimum of meetings and ceremony. An important meeting was held in early November to discuss plans for our impending weekend. Elaborate preparations were made for a biological theme and decorations for a dance that Saturday evening. Even cakes were made to raffle off in the hopes that the money received from them would boost the treasury. It was rather embarrassing for members to arrive, only to be hit by the ugly realization that no one had made any arrangements for records to be brought. The situation was quickly righted, however, after someone made a quick dash to the dorms.

Among other things, we discussed the possibilities of renting some of the marvelous Walt Disney nature films which are available to groups such as ours. Although there was a possibility we would each have to pay a small amount of money to obtain one, we all agreed it would be worth it.

Next year the Biology Club will have lost its president of two years, and its valuable senior boys. But due to the tremendous interest in Biology which Mr. Brewster, advisor, manages to instill in his sophomore students, the organization need not have any shortage of members next year. The club still has room for improvement but for one so new, it has done remarkably well.

The Weather Club

Although the Weather Club is the newest organization on campus, it is also one of the most active. Its most important activity is making daily weather forecasts. Each day before school one can see several meteorologists assiduously reading the thermograph, barograph, and windchart, whirling the sling psychrometer, or checking the clouds. If one chances to look upward, he can see another Weather Clubber on Hanscom Hall's roof checking the rain gauge. The less than 50% accuracy of the final predictions is a reminder that the Weather Club is still a new organization with plenty of room for improvements in forecasting techniques.

Making daily forecasts is by no means the only activity of the Weather Club. A showcase in Hanscom Hall is kept supplied with Weather Club displays. So far this year there have been exhibits on weather maps and space travel. This organization also watches movies pertinent to meteorology, goes on occasional field trips, and sponsors successful weekends.

The people in charge of this active club are George Nickerson, president, Rosemary Stowell, vice-president, Ellen Kennett, secretary-treasurer, Ned Robertson, SAC representative, and Mr. Barth, advisor.

Latin Club

Although the Latin Club is a relatively new campus organization, having been in existence for only three years, it has come a long way and has become an active and truly worthwhile organization. The purpose of Laeti Latini is to acquaint all interested Latin students with Roman times and traditions while at the same time providing enjoyment and an opportunity to contribute to the student. Laeti Latini is a member of the Junior Classical League and is affiliated with Maine's League chapter.

A lot of credit is due the dedicated officers of the club: president, Chris Sanborn; vice-president, David Bouldry; secretary, Martha Laws; treasurer, John Lombard; S. A. C. representative, Ken Morse. They are helped in their work by the Olympian Council; Barbara McKnight, Sue Brown, and Darlene Merrill and historian Diane Burrill.

Much was accomplished at the monthly meetings. It was decided that all members had to pay fifty cents in dues before receiving recognition. Committees were appointed to plan the weekend, initiation, and Roman Banquet. Each member of the club contributed to the fulfillment of these plans.

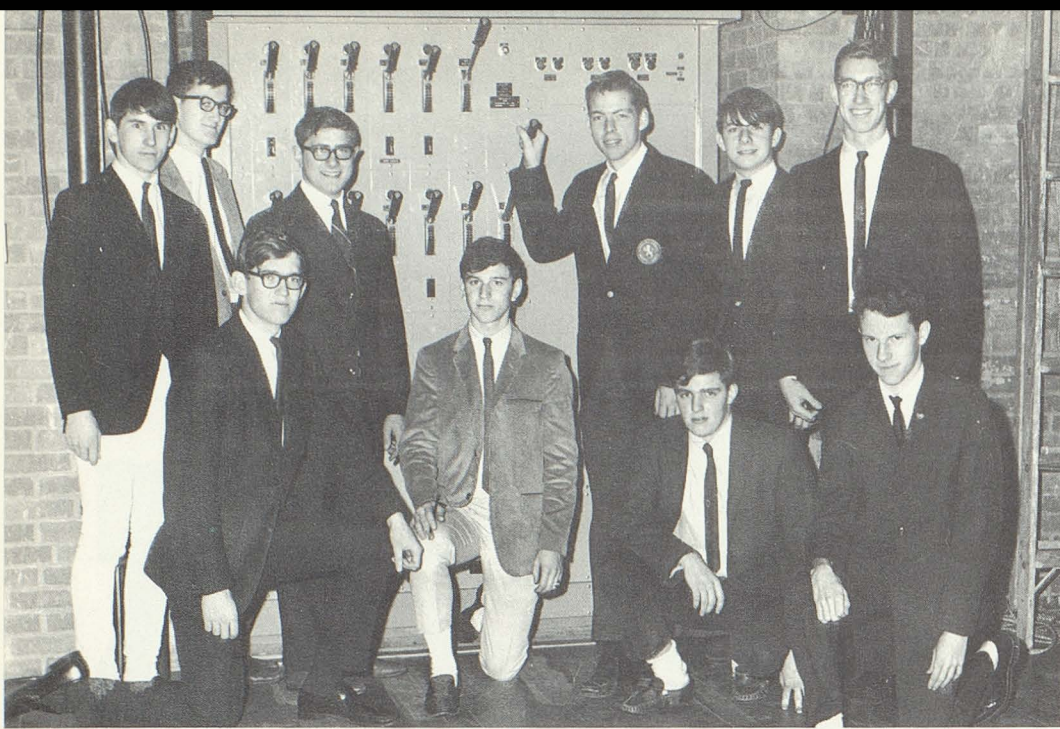

The Latin Club Dance was held in January in the festively decorated girls' gym. This was a typical Roman evening, complete with a sibyl (how about those fortunes, Martha?) and chariot races. The Forum attracted many guests with its ample stores of wine and goodies.

The initiation ceremony was a more solemn occasion. The officers and older members of the clubs represented the gods and goddesses, while other members served as attendants. In the dimly lit gym, the gods stated the principles which Laeti Latini stands for and Madame President administered the sacred oath to the awed slaves. The slaves received gifts from each god and their diplomas. The ceremony was closed with the singing of the club's hymn in Latin.

The highlight of the year was, of course, the Roman Banquet. The club members feasted on chicken, pickles, deviled eggs, cheese, and wine, served by the lowly slaves. Each member bought a slave from auctioneer Ken Morse, final bids ranging from seven cents to three dollars and twenty five cents. The slaves were forced to serve their master's every wish, which included everything from singing the school song to pushing peanuts across the gym floor with their noses. Entertainment was provided in the form of skits. Who could ever forget Chris's portrayal of Venus (in blue jeans, that is)? The chariot races ended this fun-filled occasion.

The accomplishments of Laeti Latini would have never been possible without the guidance and support given by Miss McIntyre, our interested and helpful faculty sponsor. We are very grateful to her for helping to make the Latin Club so successful.

KNEELING: Gene Tebbetts, Lloyd Carver, Junie Wheeler, Bob Saunders. STANDING: Ray Saunders, Steve Trinward, Parker Conner, Paul Pierce, Tom Fadner, Ned Robertson.

The Audio-Visual crew, advised by Mr. Jacobs and staffed by members of all four classes, is behind the scenes in nearly all Gould activities; from plays to assembly programs, they work to keep things rolling smoothly. For the past four years, they have done a wonderful job, devoting their leisure time to the crew.

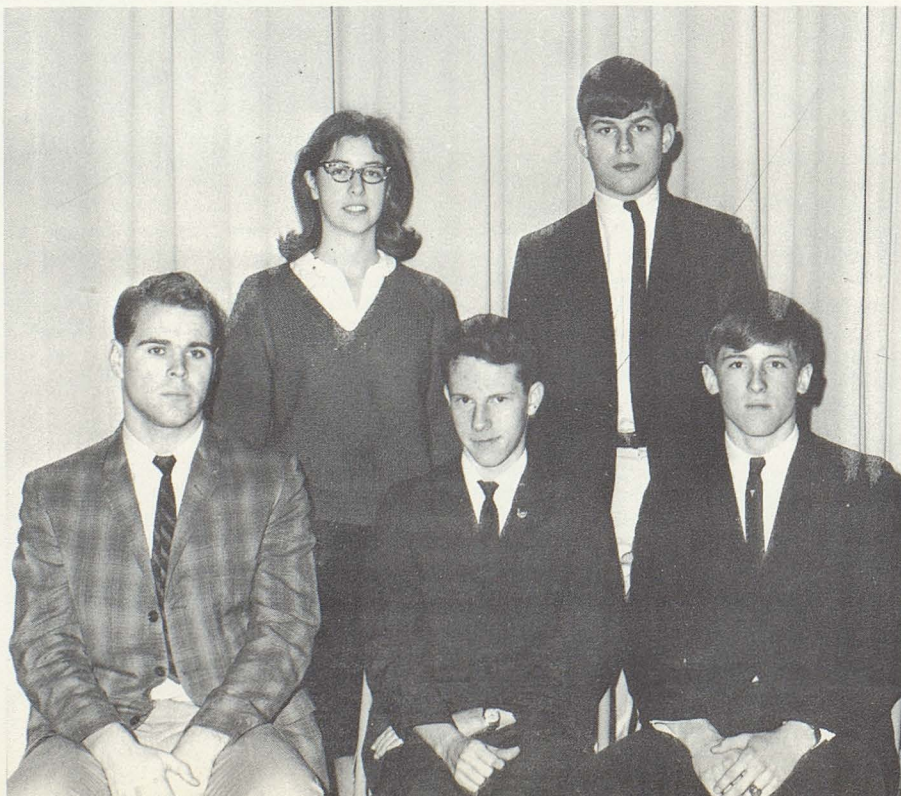

Each year, four new members are selected from interested and qualified members of the freshman class. They are put through a rigorous training program by the members of the crew and Mr. Jacobs. When they have completed the course, they are capable of running the recorders, projectors, and P.A. systems.

We owe much to these select few who helped make our dances, movies, and other forms of entertainment possible.

Athletic Council

The student body's participation in Gould's athletic competition would not be as great if it were not for the Gould Academy Athletic Council. The members of the council must check, review and approve all interscholastic competition schedules. This council must also bear the burden of being able to appropriate financial funds and appoint officials for all home games.

The morale of the student body would be low if it were not for the Council's promotion of such things as: conducting student rallies, supervising the financial transactions of a contest, encouraging the needed support of the townspeople, and giving the necessary answers to questions which might be asked about problems pertaining to the proper and wholesome administration of athletic policies.

The council is composed of five permanent members, two ex-officio members, and four elected members. The five permanent members are as follows: Mr. Edmond Vachon, Headmaster; Mr. Ordell H. Anderson, Director of Athletics; Mr. Wilbur Myers, Bursar; Mr. Richmond Roderick, Boys' Physical Education Director; and Miss Sandra Arbour, Girls' Physical Education Director. This year the two ex-officio members are as follows: Mr. Dexter Stowell, Representative of the Board of Trustees; and Mr. Stanley Brown, Representative of the Alumni Association. Elective members, having one year terms in office, who served on the 1965-66 council are the following: Mr. Robert W. Scott and Mr. Charles R. Hurd, coaches at large; Jack Brooks, Student Council Representative; and Barbara Douglass, President of the Girls' Athletic Association.

For those who have fulfilled the necessary requirements, the Athletic Council bestows the letter awards. During the 1965-66 season of sports, the council has approved the awarding of letters to the following in their separate events:

Girls Athletic Association

The year 1965-66 has marked the passage of another busy year for the girls of A. A. Let's see, the first event of the year was the annual Welcome Tea, held this year in the Gehring Hall dining room. Each council member is assigned one of two "little sisters" from the new girls of Gould. The tea thus has the dual purpose of introducing the new girls to fellow G. A. A. 'ers and to the sports program. The latter is done through short explanatory speeches given by each sports manager or managers.

When the football season came around once more, the G. A. A. served by selling refreshments and picking up the grounds after games. These services were, of course, carried through basketball season as well.

Excitement and tension were the words as Parents' Day approached. The tennis team, having lost most of its members with last year's graduation class, was especially dubious about the forthcoming match. Likewise the hockey and archery teams longed for more practice. When the results were tallied, all were pleased to find that the J. V. hockey team had done an excellent job and tied Kents Hill, the varsity losing by a slight margin. The tennis team decided to do better in the spring. After four years of practice, the archery team pushed through with a victory!

The next big event was the Halloween Party sponsored by the G. A. A. A speciality of the weekend was a scavenger hunt, which was enjoyed by all. This year's theme was Halloween Goes Halloween.

Barbie Douglass, president, Chris Sanborn, senior representative, Bev Kelley, treasurer, Eileen Saunders -- vice-president, Beth Sargent -- junior representative, Pam Douglass -- secretary, Ellen Kennett -- sophomore representative, and Joanne Bickford -- freshman representative, these were the girls of the executive council who led us through the year, and these were the ones who held the front row seats of honor as the award banquet reached its climax. It was a fine banquet this year. We had two exceptional speakers, Miss Barbara Broadbent of Windham High School and our own president, Barbie Douglass. A special few were lucky enough to receive their numerals, letters, or pins.

Ah, at last that long-awaited weekend in May arrived, and the council took off for its overnight. Some feared that bad weather would dampen the party, but this was far from the case. Food and frolic filled the days late into the morning hours, and, needless to say, a good time was had by all.

The two sports days saw marked improvement in all our teams, the J. V. softball tying and losing only in the eighth inning play-off, the freshmen also losing only by a slim margin. The tennis team, refreshed with a few new members, really played a good set of games. With upward pointed bows, the archery team let loose their arrows. When the results were announced, they had compiled an unusual three out of three victory record for the year.

The girls of G. A. A. have all noticed one vibrant addition to our council this year. Yes, our patient, understanding advisor, Miss Arbour. I'm sure many of the girls will remember her as not only a determined gymnast but also as a friend. We of G. A. A. would sincerely like to say: "Thank you, Miss Arbour."

Football

The 1965 football team was the most successful in recent Gould history, emerging from a long season as State Class C and Mountain Valley Conference Co-Champions with a 6-0-1 record. These trophies are the first to be won by a Gould football team since the present rating system was adopted approximately ten years ago. The squad scored an average of 28 points per game for a total of 197 and allowed only three points per game for a total of 19.

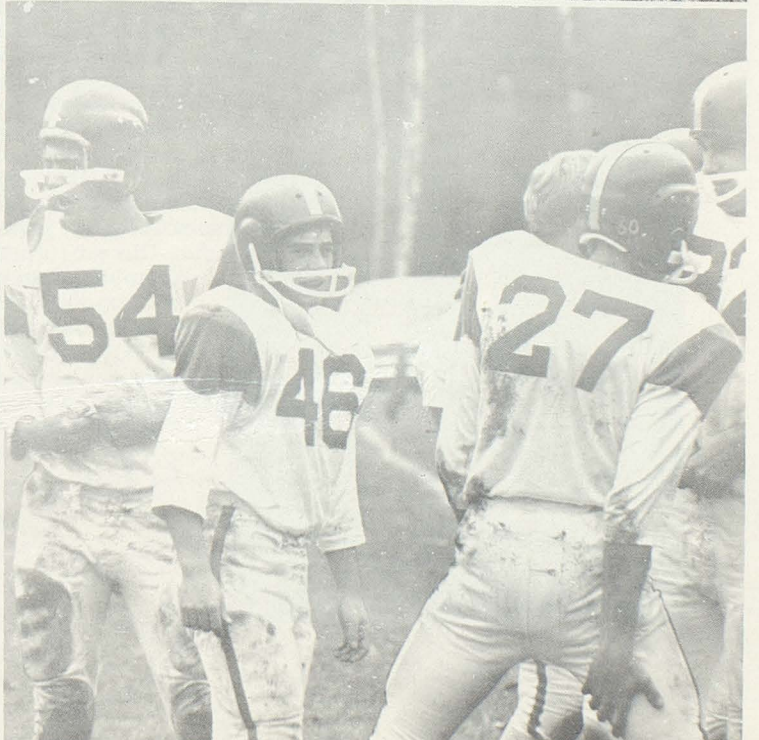

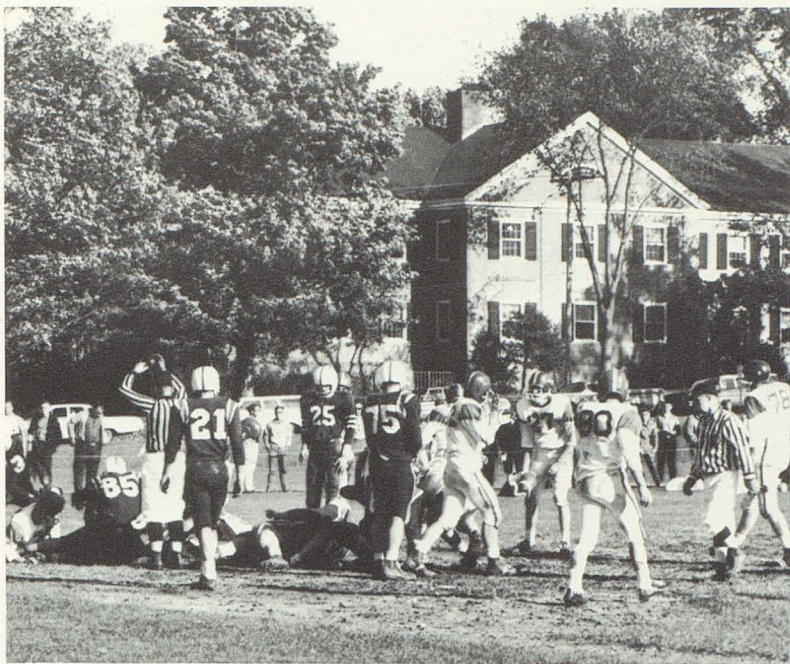

When practice began in early September, coaches Scott, Kailey, Roderick, and Cousins were not at all optimistic. An inexperienced line and extreme heat were only two of the many problems they faced in the early going. A practice game at South Berwick was first thought to have been a disaster; however, as the season progressed, it became clear that this game had given the team the one ingredient it lacked -- experience. Until the second half of the opening game with Wilton, the squad was somewhat of a question mark. After a scoreless first half, the Gould eleven ran away with a decisive victory; thus the questions were answered in convincing style. The next test came in the fourth game against Mexico. The Pintos had beaten Gould for three straight years, and the players were eager for revenge. After falling behind 6-0 in the first half, the Huskies came roaring back to win 14-6 in what was termed one of the finest team efforts in years. The final game of the season proved to be the classic battle between two undefeated teams, for Hall-Dale had also weathered the fall unscathed. This game would decide the state and conference championships. Both teams scored in the first quarter; then the game turned into a bruising defensive contest. Neither squad scored again; thus, the season as well as the game ended in a tie.

There are certain qualities that are always apparent in a team of championship caliber: spirit, the ability to come back, and an outstanding coaching staff. This team had all three in abundance, but the spirit was especially outstanding and more than compensated for any weakness the squad may have had. Although many fine players have graduated, there is a wealth of talent returning for next year's team, including next year's co-captains Harlan Bean and George Nickerson, and we wish them luck in '66.

Captain Damone

Cross-Country

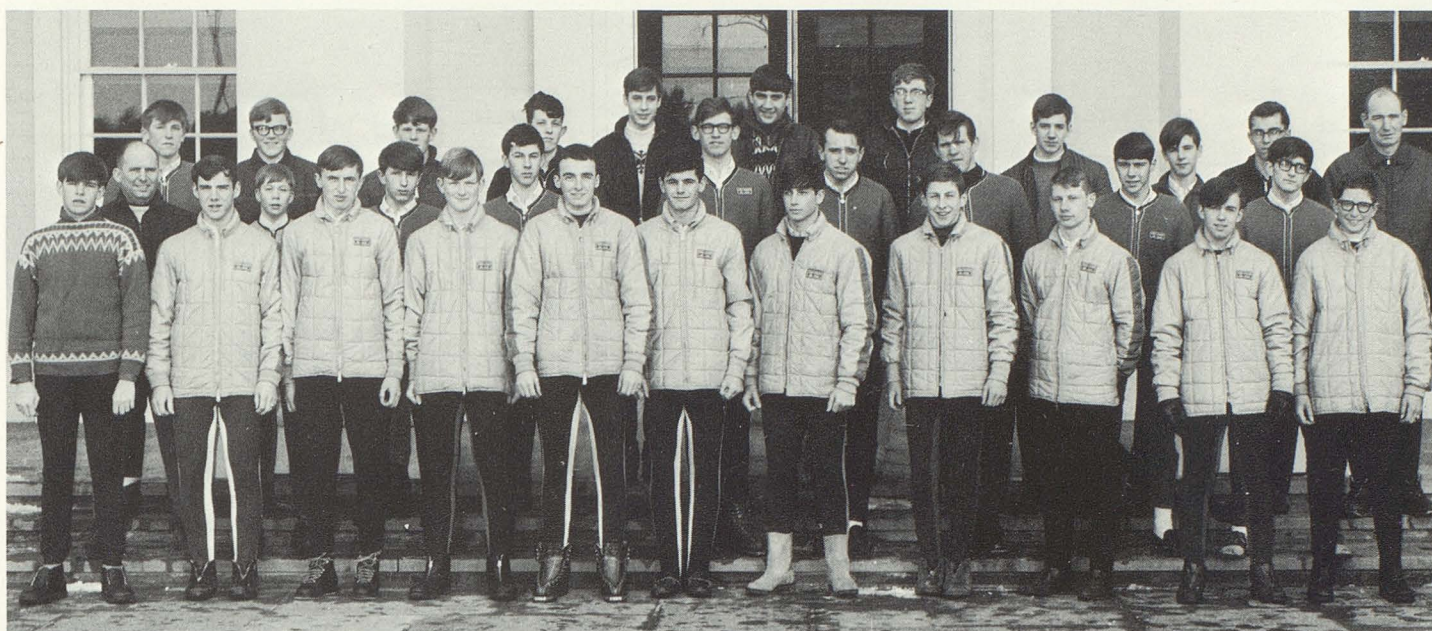

As all are well aware, this year's cross-country team won the class M state championship. Bob Everett and Captain Vaughan Damone constantly swapped first and second places of the team. Andy Buck, John Lombard, and Lloyd Carver completed scoring top five. Ned Robertson and Jack Brooks completed the top seven when only this many could run, while Dave Carter and Eugene Tebbets went along for the exercise.

In our first meet of the year, September 23, we scored 25 over Bridgton's 39 and Oxford Hills' 79 (the low score wins). The next meet, against Gorham, Maine, surprised everyone, perhaps the team most of all. Traditionally, Gorham has been our strongest opponent. However, this year we took them with a perfect score of 15 to 40, five of our men coming in before their first. Even with Damone out of the running for the day, we beat Mexico 17 to 42 on October 5. We trounced Farmington later in the week and beat both Dearing and Portland, schools very much larger than Gould, at Portland the next week. Later that week, we won a perfect score against Mechanic Falls and took the Hebron meet the next week by 21 to 40. On October 21, we won the Mountain-Valley Meet at Farmington with a score of 33 -- an exceptionally fine score for a meet with 5 teams competing. Four of our men placed in the top ten, with Bob Everett winning individually. A week later, we won the state meet at Orono with the low score of 49. On November 2, Gould won the Western Maine Conference Meet at Fryeburg with a score of 25, followed by Bridgton's 34, while all the others were in the hundreds. We placed fourth in the New England's at Boston, a very fine showing.

Certainly the cross-country team would not have achieved these results without the highly competent coaching of Mr. Vogt. He has managed to drive the team to a lot of hard work while making none of it distasteful, a combination which speaks for itself.

Boys' Ski Team

This year's ski team came extremely close to the state championship -- within a hair's-width tenth of a point. Both the teammates and the coaches worked practically every school night from November until the end of the ski season to gain this end, and many devoted both winter vacations to working for the team.

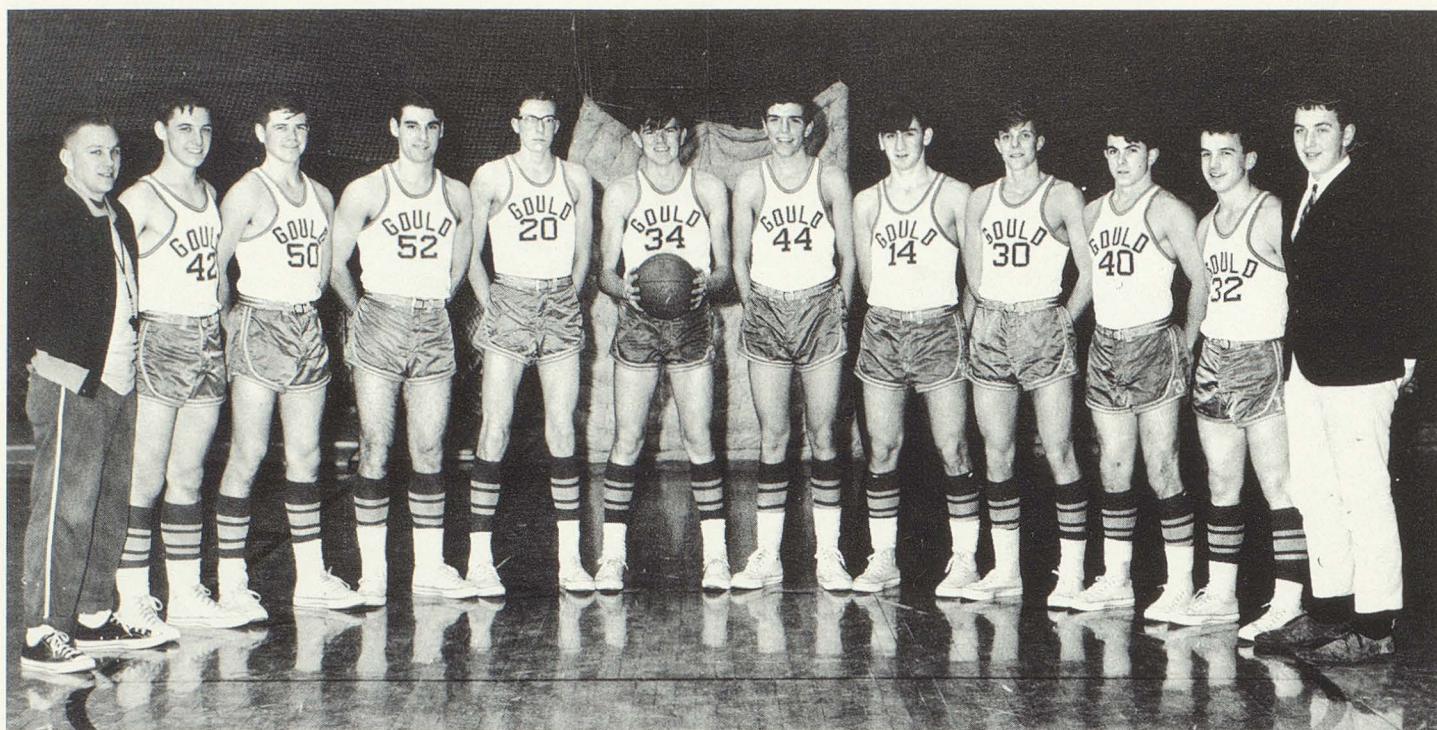

Steve Moore and co-captain Jack Brooks were the highest scorers in Alpine. Bob Seemann scored well in slalom and giant slalom and even had a chance to jump in the state meet. Warren Tibbetts was our only four-event man, and Gene Tebbets the only regular three-event. Pete Kailey, a freshman, made a spectacular rise in Alpine; as one example, he placed first for Gould in the New England slalom. Scott Daigle was another "hot freshman," though, unfortunately, he, Bob Seemann, and Steve Moore weren't able to compete for us at the New England's. Don Dixon was not a regular member of the team, but in the New England's he pulled through magnificently and gave us invaluable points. Rodney Swain was our best jumper, while co-captain Mike Bates was right behind. Larry Fox, a sophomore, is coming up in the jumping world every year. Bob Remington, next year's captain, was invaluable on both the jumping and cross-country teams. Jack "Intellectual" McMillin and Dave "Technique" Carter usually finished in Gould's top three in cross-country, with Andy Buck always close behind.

In our first meet of the season, January 8, we beat Edward Little by 396.60 to 395.05, though we did not fare so well next week at Holderness. In the Edward Little Winter Carnival, January 21 and 22, a meet in which we always seem to do poorly, we came in third, behind EL and Stephens.

The next week we were leading in the Alpine at the Rumford Carnival, but the cross-country and jumping were cancelled because of the severe cold, wind, and drifting. On February 4, we took Kennett by quite a margin. The next week, the State Meet at Sugarloaf and Farmington was cancelled because of rain, and we all went trooping back to school with no homework done. In the State Championships, rescheduled for February 18 and 19, we gained a wide lead in the Alpine, but unfortunately did rather poorly in the cross-country, setting us back to second place behind EL by 376.49 to 376.39. This year, due to an administrative slip-up somewhere, the New England's were held the same weekend as the Eastern's, so three of our best Alpine men did not race for Gould. However, we did come in third, the Nordic team making the difference. What was particularly gratifying was that the three Maine teams took first, second, and third: Stephens, EL, and Gould, respectively.

We certainly could not have achieved so much without the untiring work of Coach Kailey and Assistant Coach Barth. Mr. Kailey, who will unfortunately not return next year, has spent a number of years making Gould one of the top teams in the state. He worked every afternoon, both days of every weekend, and on vacations, with the Alpine and cross-country members, while Mr. Barth raised the jumping team to prominence. Everyone, Alpine, Nordic, and coaches, worked really hard throughout the season; our achievements show just how much.

Basketball

With only three lettermen returning from the previous year's squad, hopes for a successful season were dim. It was definitely a "building" year. However, no one was willing to concede defeat, least of all Coach Hurd. Unperturbed by the unimpressive record of Gould basketball teams in recent years, he proceeded to mold a team that was dangerous but not of championship caliber. The season was not particularly successful if judged by won-lost percentages alone; however, in terms of material developed for next year and not the least important factor of enjoyment the season was indeed successful.

The squad was one of the shortest teams in the league, the tallest player reaching only six feet two inches. This handicap was minimized by hustle under the boards, but it proved to be the fatal blow in contests with the taller teams of the conference.

The players displayed throughout the season an outstanding defense that on several occasions compensated for the lack of offensive power. Opposing teams were often held well below their average by the determined effort of the Gould quintet. One of the most important factors in a winning or losing season is spirit. This the team had in the beginning and never lost in spite of a long, grueling schedule.

The J.V. team under the able coaching of Mr. Cousins completed the season with the very respectable record of six wins and ten losses. Several players will be stepping into the varsity ranks next season. The experience they gained this year will be of great value to Coach Hurd in the future.

We wish Captain-elect Dave Bouldry and next year's team the best of luck next season.

Track

The 1966 track season opened on April 29th at Farmington. An untested Gould team faced the strong Farmington defenders with high hopes of returning home with a victory. The meet started slowly for the Huskies with a second in the high hurdles by Boynton, then picked up when Boynton and McKnight took second and third respectively in the lows. Jack Brooks took a third in the 100 while Warren Tibbetts took a first in the discus and a second in the javelin. These notable performances were followed by Lane's first in the pole vault and a first in the high jump by McBain. Lombard and Atwood monopolized the 220 and the 440, and Ray won the shot. In the distance events Damone and Everett took two firsts and two seconds in the 880 and the mile, and McMillin took the two-mile. Kimball, Kuzyk, and Paine rounded out the score by taking the first three places in the broad jump. The boys and coaches agreed that there were many things to work on; however, this was a fine showing for the first trip out, the final score being Gould 79 1/3 points to Farmington's 48 1/3.

The second meet of the season with Mexico was highlighted by two double winners: John Lombard in the 440 and 220, and Doug Boynton in the high and low hurdles. Vaughn Damone and Bob Everett took first and second in the mile, and Everett took first in the 880. Jack McMillin again took a first in the two-mile. These firsts were backed up by fine the fine performances of Brooks, and Ferrero in the 100, Atwood in the 440, 220 and shot, Tibbetts in the discus and javelin, McBain in the high jump, Lane in the pole vault, and Kimball in the broad jump. The team again emerged victorious with a 72-59 win.

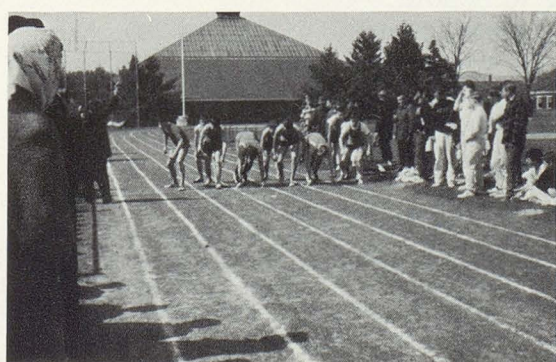

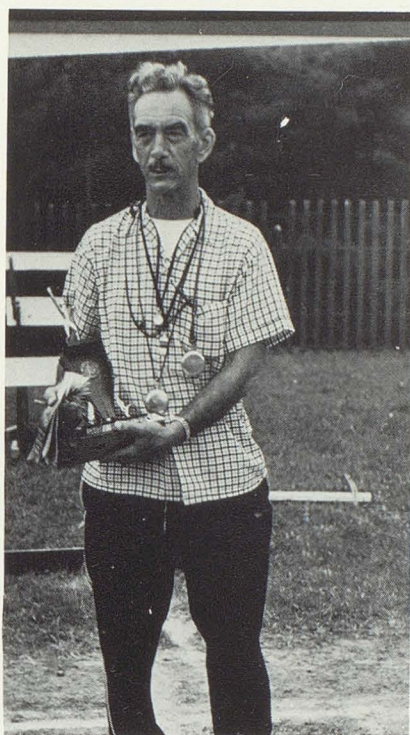

The Huskies put forth a valiant effort Saturday, May 21, in the Oxford County Track Championship, which was held on their home track, but they were beaten back by a strong Rumford team. So they contented themselves with second place ahead of Mexico and Fryeburg. Stephens compiled 80 points, Gould 40. Despite the fact that this year's meet was not the most spectacular in the annuals of Gould sports history, the Gould contingent could hardly be ignored in the fray, and several Husky standouts won enviable laurels. Thus, spectators witnessed the efforts of a game Gould team and fully appreciated the fighting spirit that netted the Huskies a well-deserved 2nd place.

For the third consecutive year Gould captured the Mountain Valley League Track Championship in an eight-way meet. There were no complaints from the team that the sun didn't shine; they needed to conserve their energy for the long, action-packed meet. Because of the large number of competitors, trials and finals were run in most events. This didn't slow down the team's efforts though, for, as the presentation of ribbons showed, Gould took its share of the honors. The Huskies exhibited superiority in overall depth, and so it was a tired but happy team that trooped from the field after winning the Mountain Valley Meet.

At the State Meet in Bangor the Gould contingent secured a very commendable sixth place. Twenty-four schools participated. In one of the most exciting races of the day, Jack McMillin took a third in the two-mile behind Dan Donnel of York and Mark Stevens of Winthrop. Bob Everett followed in fourth place for the Huskies. In a finish that rivaled the excitement created by the two-mile Vaughn Damone took the mile in 4:43.7. Vaughn also took fifth in the 880. In the 440 Jack Brooks placed fourth to climax his first and last year on the Gould squad. Thus, the team completed a very successful season that was marked by fine spirit and an uncommon willingness to spend long hours on the cinders in preparation for the meets. This hard work provided the team with the depth it needed to place in the win column. Congratulations to Captain John Lombard and the 1966 Gould track team; best wishes to next year's team and Captain-elect Warren Tibbetts.

Girls' Ski Team

Girls' Ski Team

It was a fantastic winter. From December right through April, we were blessed with an abundant supply of snow; nearly every day the Mountain, reflecting snowy fields in the sunlight, glistened and beckoned to those chapped-lipped, ruddy-nosed beings whose reason for existence is skiing. It called perhaps even more to members of the Girls' Ski Team, Dexter's Dynamites (Dunderballs?), that exclusive group of serious female skiers.

These skiers are not only female and serious, but good skiers. Because of the success of last year's team, they had quite a reputation to uphold and they did an admirable job of it. Cancellations and weather complications kept the girls from participating in all but two meets, but even that number was sufficient to demonstrate their strength and sportsmanship in the Gould tradition.

Co-captain Janie Howe is the powerful skier of the nine; she gets so psyched up before a race, she really guns through those gates. To see her coming sends one and only one impulse brainward: GET OUT OF THE WAY. Earrings flapping in the wind, she is known for getting in three times as many runs as anyone else during practice.

Beth Sargent, co-captain, has been under Uel's training since she was yea high, and it certainly shows; it is thrilling to watch her smooth, graceful skiing and excellent form.

Eileen Saunders is the ambitious one ("Okay, gang -- let's go!"), and is always cracking jokes to keep the girls in high spirits.

Heidi Glines by contrast is quiet, but just as indispensable as Eileen. When the girls are lacking a few points, she tries her hardest to set the situation right.

Laura Sawyer is the dedicated, hard-working member. Although she rarely places, you've got to admit that that girl can really ski.

"Spitfire" is the word to describe Julie Grace and Grace Lackee. These two show real promise and should be commended for their fine work. Any member of the team can tell you that it's obvious these two have a lot ahead of them.

What would the team have done without Joanne Bickford's and Linda Carver's confidence and determination? Or their smiles? And Joanne's Peruvian fall mask was really something to behold.

In their first meet the girls lost to Kents Hill, but not without giving the opposition some tough competition. After a series of cancellations they came back strong at Farmington (after all those extra hours of practice), and emerged victorious. Janie took the honors at both meets, but Gould could never have been as successful without the efforts of the rest of the team. Certainly these girls, their coach, Mr. Dexter, and faithful manager, Elaine Smith, should be congratulated for their prolific effort and hard work.

Many other presentations were made in Music; BLUE AND GOLD, HERALD, Girls' A.A., Track, Baseball, Latin, French, Camera Club and Debating.

The seniors combined their class will and prophecy into an amusing skit which led down a side street of Bethel, ten years hence, into Lugee's Pawnshop, Wiley's Fortune Telling Booth and a Little Drug Store.

The gray drizzle refused to allow the Seniors their scheduled picnic; regretfully they turned their foodstuffs over to the I.G.A. and upcoming Commencement Ball.

The weather relented for Alumni Day, June 11, and the girls and victorious alumnae enjoyed a lively softball game in the sun. The Alumni Luncheon was held in the Bingham Gymnasium. The guest speaker, President Ermo Scott of Farmington State College, spoke on the school's place in strengthening the American moral fiber. Following this came the annual Alumni-Varsity baseball game, with the Gould team victorious. Then parents, teachers, and students gathered at the Headmaster's Tea. The day was crowned by Commencement Ball; students enjoyed their last dance as Gould scholars in the gym transformed into a Venetian night.

Graduation Day, June 12, dawned fair and warm. Students, parents and faculty trooped into the West Parish Congregational Church for the Baccalaureate Services. Guest speaker Reverend Harper Welch, minister of the State Street Church of Portland, spoke "On Living in a World That's Incomplete."

The Graduation exercises were held outdoors. Organist Ward Steady rendered Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance" as Class Marshall David Bouldry lead the Seniors across the lawn. Lecky DesRoches gave her Salutatory address on the responsibility of the individual to fully develop his potential. Her well chosen words were followed by the Glee Clubs' rendition of GRANT ME TRUE COURAGE, LORD, by Bach.

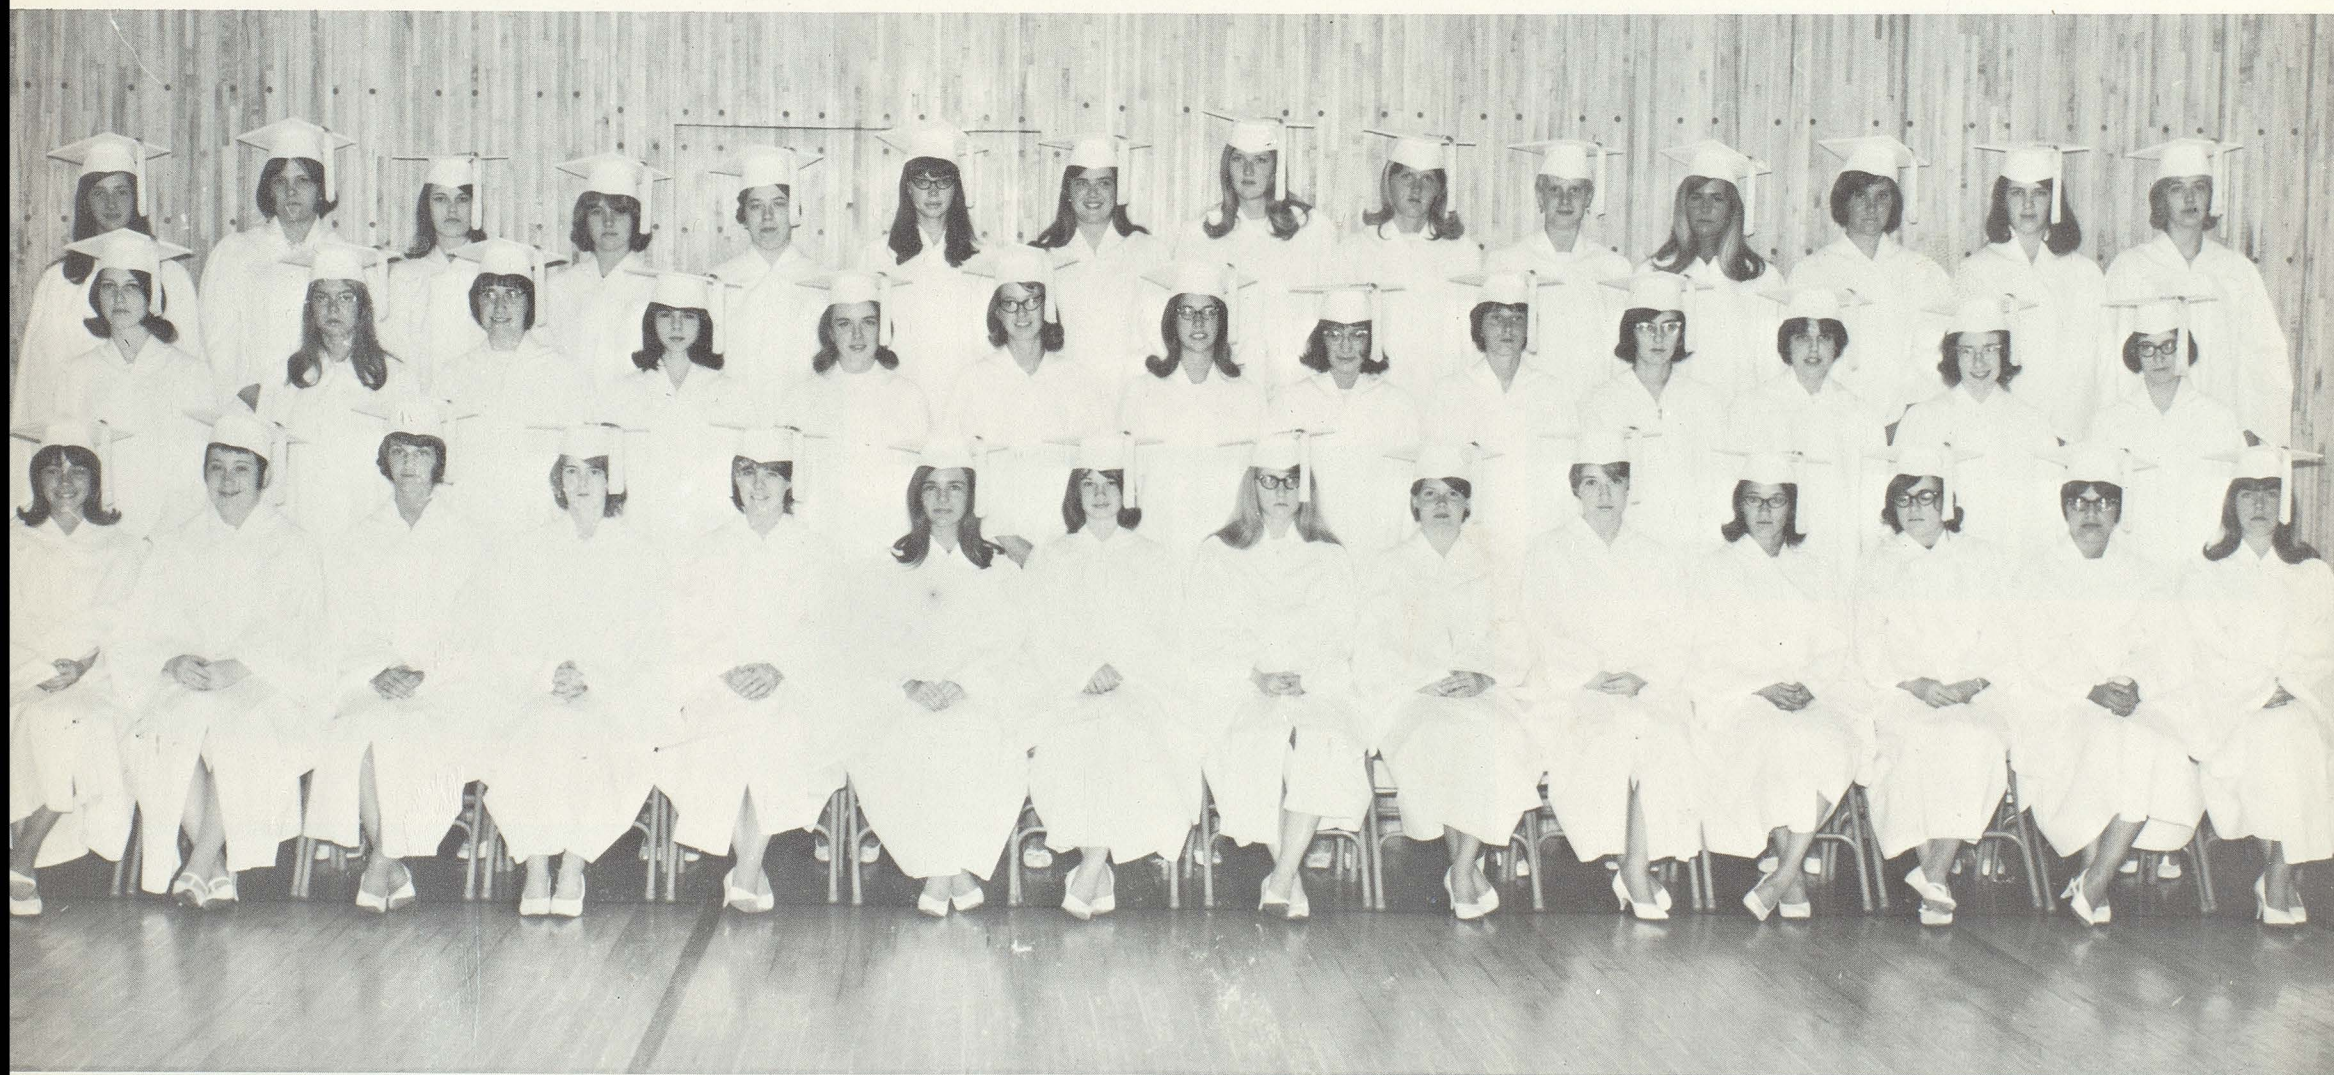

The Commencement Speaker was Herbert Brown, Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory at Bowdoin College. His address was entitled "And These Few Precepts in Thy Memory." After the Glee Club sang the traditional "Halls of Ivy", Valedictorian Darrell Nichols spoke on OPENMINDEDNESS. Dr. Sidney Davidson awarded Diplomas. After the Benediction, the largest class ever graduated marched out, and on to a new chapter of life.
